523:

A Book in 4to, wherein are contained Copies of divers Letters from Sir Philip Hoby, Mr. Comptroller, (afterwards the Lord) Paget, Sir Richard Moryson, &c. touching their Negotiations abroad; written to the Lords of the Privy Councill in England, & vice versa. The sum of these Letters are as follows.

1. The Commissioners to the Counsell, from Brussels; the 20th of July, 1553. That the Emperor was not pleased that K. Edward vi. had declared the Lady Mary to be a Bastard, & limited the Succession otherwise than his father had done: That his Ambassadors could have no Audience since K. Edward's death; or that the Queen of Scotland was married to the Dolphin, who might also have pretensions to England, since his wife is descended from the eldest Sister, & Q. Jane but from the youngest. He would have the differences between Q. Jane & the Lady Mary determined by Parliament, without force or violence, and that the said Lady Mary sholde be married to some Noble Man of Englande, so that the Realme sholde remayne in Governauce of Policy and Religion, as now it is. That the Emperor was jealous upon Mr. Dudley's being sent into France, as thinking he was Sr. Andrew Dudley, and that he was sent for some practise. That he delayed to give audience to Mr. Shelley who came over to him with a message from Qu. Jane,

2. The Counsaile to Sr. Philip Hoby, from Greenwich, the 21st of Aprill 1550. touching the refusal which Sebastian Cabot made to the Emperor's Ambassador, either to go to Spain, or to the Emperor at his request. And concerning the Goods which the Emperors subjects claimed, tho taken by the English in French Ships. They shew the obliging Answer lately made to the Emperors Ambassador, to the Proposal he made for a marriage between the Lady Mary, & the King of Portugalle's brother. And also, to his proposal that the King would grant the Lady Mary a Licence or Dispensation under his Seale, for her to continue in that fashion of Worship which she now usithe; which was refused; & he required to counsel her for the future to hear Mass only in her Closet, & not to keepe, as it were, an open Church for all the Servaunts & Neighbours to resort thither to Masse, and so to offend openly God & the King's Laves, incurring thereby great danger, & inducing a manner of scisme in this Commonwealth. They give a particular answer to the Emperors surmise as if by the last Treaty with France, England had made Peace with the Scotts, contrary to the treaty with him; by which, England was not to make any Peace with the Scotts (being a common enemy) without his Consent in writing.

3. Sir Philip Hoby & Sr. Richard Moryson, &c. from Brussels, the 15th of July, 1553. Shewing the communication they had with Don Diego, who offer'd (the Consent of the Emperor his master first had) to serve the new King of England his godchild, as far as he should be able; that Don Francesco di Este General of the Italian Foot, had made the same offer. NB. this Don Diego then told them, that K. Edw. by his Testament had barr'd both his sisters of the Crown, and left the same to the Lady Jane.

3. The same, from Brussels, the 17th July, 1553. Shewing what pass'd at the Audience they had of the Emperor, when they acquainted him with the news of the decease of K. Edw. vi. at which he seemed to be much grieved, and spake much in his commendation. As also that he promised to continue his Amity with England.

4. A Note that the King (Q. Jane's husband) had written to the Regent of the Lowe-Countries, signifying to her Mr. Chamberlayne's revocation (i.e. Sir Tho. Chamberlayne's) and desiring her, in all his affayres, to give audience & full credit, to Sr. Philip Hoby.

5. The Council to Sir Philip Hoby, the 20th of August, 1552. touching Ledes the Receiver of the Earle of Arundell's revenues, who refuseth to deliver any parte of the Monie he hath in his handes, unto the Countesse of Arrundell, either for the maintenance of her familie, or for th'entertainment of th' Earle her husbands expenses.

6. The Counsell to the Commissioners (i.e. Tho. Thirleby Bp. of Norwich, Sr. Rich. Moryson, & Sr. Phil. Hoby) 5th of May, 1553. directing them to consider further, & send their Opinions about a League to be made with the Princes of Germany; and giving them orders how to demean themselves, in case of the Emperors death, which was then expected.

7. Sir Philip Hoby from the Emperours Courte to the Duke of Somerset, the 19th of January, 1548. relating the particulars occurring at the Audience he last had of the Emperor, and of the Conference he had with Monsr. d'Arras his Minister, touching the disembarking of certain French and Scotts, at Dunkirke, and of Ringrane (a Rebel of the Emperor) his Departure out of Scotland either into Fraunce, or his owne Country to reteine more men: with their Answer thereunto. And a Complaint of a Flemish Ship (laden in Britaigne) that was taken into Jersey. That the French have lately sent 2000 men into Scotland. That there are sundry discourses made there, of the proceedings in Englande in matters of Religion; That the Protestants have good hope (and pray earnestly therefore) that the Kings Majestie beinge warned by the late ruine of Germanie, happened by the Bishoppes continuance in their princely & lordly estate; will take Order for the redresse therof in his dominions, & apoint unto the good Bishoppes an honest & competent Lyving, sufficient for their maintenance; taking from them the reste of thies wordly possessions & dignities, & thereby avoide the vaine glorie that letteth them truly & sincerely to do their Office & preach the Gospell and Worde of Christe. But the Papiests, the contrary. And upon a fine appearance which was made by 1500 Horse, appointed to go towards Spires, to meete the Prince of Spaine,

Num. 523.

30. The Counsaile, the 11th of June, 1553. to the Bp. of Norwich, Sr. Phillip Hoby, & Sr. Rich. Moryson; requiring them not, as yet, to shew the Emperor the French Kings demands. 39. b.

31. The Counsaile, to the same, the 20th of June, 1553. directing them if they have not done so already, to write the Emperors answer to the unreasonable demands of the French King, to his Majesties Embassadors in France, that thereby they might apply for some others more equitable & moderate; or else gett an answer so resolute, as to put an end to both the Embassades. 40.

32. The Counsaile to the same, from Grinewiche, the first of July, 1553. directing them to shew further to the Emperor, the Kings good mind to procure Peace; and that it may happen that the French King may abate of his extravagant demands. That if they shall find no hopes of Peace, they should procure so resolute an answer as may be an occasion for their return; the King's honor, & the mutual amitie therein provided for. Finally, they affirm, that (notwithstanding all false reports, at home and abroad) the King is alive, &c. 40. b.

33. The Counsaile to the same Commissioners, the 11th of July, 1553. by Mr. Shelley; shewing the King's death, and Succession by Queen Jane. That Sr. Philip Hoby was to remain Embassador there, & to proceed in the Treaty of Peace if it should so like the Emperor. That the Lady Mary (tho' she had been written unto by them) sought to disturb the peace of the realme, by the concurrence only of a few, leude, base people. That the Duke of Northumberland & Marquis of Northampton were gone toward Norfolk, to keep that side of the Countrey in quiet. That they should advertise the Emperor of these matters; as also that the Lord Cobham & Sir John Mafon were by them sent to his Ambassadors here, to give them notice of the Lady Maries proceedings against the State of this Realme, and to putt them in remembrance of the nature of their Office, which is, not to meddle in thies causes of Pollicie, neither directlie nor indirectlie; and to charge them to use themselves so as thei give no occasion of unkindness to be ministred unto them. 43.

34. The Queene Jane to the same Commissioners with th'Emperoure, from the Tower of London, the 12th of July, 1553. notifying to them her succession in the Crowne & Dominion of her cosin & auncester King Edward the vi. whose steppes she intends to follow; particularly by promoting the weale of Christendom, and that by proceeding in the mediation of a Peace between the Emperor & the French King. To which end, she orders them to go on with the business of their Commission if the Emperor shall be willing; if not Sir Philip Hoby to stay there as her Ambassador Resident, & the others to return home. And that they should shew these matters to the Emperor, whose amity, she, as well as her Nobility & Council is very desirous to preserve. 44.

35. Minute of a Letter (perhaps from Sr. Philip Hoby) shewing that since his last, nothing hath happened worthy writing. 45.

36. Queen Maries Privy Council to the same Commissioners, from the Tower of London, the 5 day of August, 1553. shewing her inclination for their further stay, in case there was any likelihood of their succeeding in the mediation; but since the contrary did appear, They order Sir Philip Hoby & Sr. Richard Morison, to return to the Queen's presence, & the Bp. of Norwich to remain there as her Embassador Resident with the Emperor. 45. b.

37. The Bishop of Norwich, Sir Philip Hoby, & Sr. Richard Morison to the Counsaile, the 29th of July

Num. 523.

1553. that the Emperor is so weake & pale, that he is not likely to live long. 46. b.

38. The same to Queen Maries Counsaile, the 29th of July 1553. shewing that tho' the Ladie Jane had sent Mr. Shelly with Letters & Credence to the Emperor, they were not deliver'd, nor his Credit opened, for that it pleased God to call the Lady Marye her Grace to the State & Possession of the Realme, according to the Kings Majestie her fathers last Will, & the Lawes of the Realme: and beseech their Lordships that they may know her Majesties pleasure, as to what they should do. ibid.

39. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, the 13th of August, 1549. setting forth at large, how dishonorably the French had proceeded with the English, presuming upon our Kings young years, contrary to equity, reason & justice; & expressly contrary to the last Treaties between the two nations. And that at last, the French King had begun hostilities, without warning given, as he had promised. And that Sr. Philip should acquaint the Emperor herewith. 47.

40. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, the 23d of August, 1549. directing him to publish, how the Lord Russel Lord Privy Seale had gotten the victorie over the Rebels of Devon & Cornwall; and that certain light persons of the hither parts of Yorkshire, having assembled themselves in disorderly manner, for the matter of Commons, & having done some damage, the Gentlemen had quelled them without much difficulty. 50.

41. A Copie of my Lord Privie-Seale's Newes, sent in the same Letter, wherein is particular mention of notable services of the Lord Gray, & Sir William Herbert. 51.

42. The Duke of Somerset to Sr. Philip Hoby Ambassador-Resident with the Emperor, the 24th of August, 1549. describing the fury that possels'd the mob in Devonshire, Cornwall, Somersetshire, Norfolk, Yorkshire, &c. so as that they brake-out in rebellion upon various pretences; that most of them had been sufficiently chastized, that others had submitted, & the rest in a fear of meeting with their deserts. That the French King had taken his advantage of these broils, and come down in person to Boulognois; and that tho' he had gained a Fort thro' the treachery of the Captain, 'twas hoped that Newhaven would be well defended against him. 52.

43. The Duke of Somerset & the Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby, the 1 of September, 1549. How the Lord Privy-Seale had quieted all things in Devonshire, &c. and writes at large how the Earl of Warwick had reduced Ket the Tanner & his rebellious companions in Norfolk. That the French King, in person by treacherous practises had taken first the Fort called the Almaine Campe, being the Key to Newhaven, afterwards the Fort of Newhaven it self, & then another piece called Blacknesse, and hopes to get Bulloigne. But, now the intestine jarres are appeas'd, they trust, he will find but small cause of boasting in the end, tho' he had begun the war so dishonorably, & at a time when they were obliged rather to attend to the pacifying things at home. 53. b.

44. The Counsaile to Sr. Philip Hoby, the 16th of January, A.D. 1549. giving him thanks for his Advertisements: and signifying, that Mr. Anthony Guidot is come out of France, & brought word that the French King being desirous to treat of Peace, has named Commissioners accordingly; and that the King hath appointed the Lord Privy Seale, the Lord Paget, Sir William Petre & Sir John Mafon to treat with them. That the Earle of Arundell, Sir Thomas Arundell, & Mr Rogers, were sequester'd to their Houses; but that the report as if the Earl of Southampton was sequester'd also, is untrue. 56.

Num. 523.

45. The Council to Sr. Philip Hoby, &c. directing him to assist the servant of Count Ludovico Rangone, in soliciting his Masters business with the Emperor, since he hath always shewed himself affectionate towards the Kings Majesty; and hath presently bestowed one of his sonnes in service with his Highnes. 56. b.

46. Sir William Paget Comptroller of the Houehold, to the Lord Protector; relates the particulars of his passage to Brussells; his reception there by the Emperors Ministers, &c. at the Audiences he & Sr. P. Hoby had of the Emperor, & the Queen of Hungary; and at a Conference with the Duke of Alba, Granvela, & his son Monfr. d'Arras. The business he was charged withal, was to encrease the amity between the Emperor & K. Edw. vi. which might be done more effectually, if they would agree that the Treaty between the Emperor & K. Henry viii. should be revis'd, & if need should be, corrected & explained, and afterwards solemnly ratified by all the Nations under the K. of England, or which would be under the Prince of Spain. To complain of the Emperors granting his subjects (of the Lowe Countries) Safe-Conducts, and of their furnishing the Scots with many necessities. To communicate to the Emperor the state of his Majesties affairs, with relation to the French & Scots And to propose a marriage between the Lady Mary, & Don Louis the Infanta, & brother of the King of Portugal. To all which points the Comptroller mett with very good words; but as to the last when Monfr. de Granvela desired to know the Lady Maries portion, shewing that K. Henry viii. had given 200,000 Crownes with one of his sisters to the French King, & 100,000 Crowns with the other, to the King of Scotland; and that he had offer'd once before, 40,000l. sterling with the same Lady to the same Infanta: Mr. Comptroller declared, that notwithstanding the long warres, the King would advance what K. Henry left her, to twice so much; or peradventure to 100,000 Crownes, in case a convenient Dowry might be assured to her. 57.

47. Sir William Paget, & Sir Phillip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset; shewing how the Treaty between the Emperor & England, was revised at a Conference they had with the Emperors Ministers, and of the doubts which arose thereupon; as to which, and as to their demand that the Emperor should take B. Sir William Paget, & Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset, touching at what past between them & the President St. Maurice (wherein the Transcriber thought fit to leave out almost all the business); also the warm expressions which Mr. Comptroller used to Monsieur D'Arras, upon the Emperors not yet giving his answer, as to the doubtful expressions in the above-mentioned Treaty between him and K. Henry the viii. 70.

50. Sir William Paget to the Duke of Somerset; relating to the Emperors cold answer to the particulars above-mentioned, given by Monfr. d'Arras & two Presidents, with his reply thereunto. Also his answer to some complaints made on their side, against the English. 72.

sedicion in the Parliament; & otherwise to have put the whole Realme in trouble & daunger; that such his practices being discover'd and he questioned, he seemed very penitent, whereupon he was forgiven, & his Living advanced almost 1000 marks per ann. That afterwards, he practised, & had almost compassed a secret marriage between himself & the Lady Elizabeth the Kings sister, & then intended to have taken into his hands & order, the person of the Kings Majestie, & of the Lady Mary, & to have disposed of his Majesties whole Counsaile at his pleasure; for all which he is putt into the Tower of London. 79.

Num. 703:

A Book in fol. written (as it seems) by the direction of Sr. Walter Covert Kt. who served as High Sheriffe, Justice of Peace, & Deputy Lieutenant, in the County of Suffex: and containing Copies or Entries of all Orders, Letters from the Privy Council, Lord Lieutenants, &c. relating to the public business of the County, or to those Offices, from 16th of November, 1583. to the 16th of November, 1627. with some other private matters, the particular enumeration whereof is not the design of this shorter Catalogue. But, that I may not be wholly silent, I shall take notice of these that follow:

1. Letter from the Lord Hunfdon & Sr. Francis Walsingham, dat. 16 Nov. 1583. to Walter Covert Esq; High-Sheriffe of Surrey & Suffex, to protect the house wife & family of John Ashburnham of Ashburnham Esq; from the outrages of his Creditors, till they (by authority from the Queens Privy Council) should have determined therein as should be thought meet.

2. An Advice to a Captaine of a Companie of Fote-men, howe to frame & instruct his Companie.

3. Processes out of the Courte of Wards, &c. against many in the Counties of Surrey & Suffex.

4. Letter from the Privy Council, recommending the deplorable condition of the Inhabitants of Nampwich in the County of Chester, after the destruction of the said Town by fire.

5. Letter of Sir Francis Walsingham to Walter Covert Esq; Highe-Sheriffe of Suffex & Surrey, requiring him to repaire to Petworthe, & in her Majesties name to apprehend one Shaftowe a servant to the Earl of Northumberland, & to send him up in safe custody; but in the performing this service, to use the Lady Northumberland with all curtesie & honor. dat. 16 Dec. 1583.

6. Letter from the Privy Council, dat. 24th Maie, 1584. requiring, that there shall for the future be a general Sessions for, the execution of justice, &c. for the whole Countie of Suffex, as in other Counties, the petty Sessions in each Rape, being very inconvenient, & dilatory.

7. Letter from the Privy Council, dat. 27 October, 1584. requiring the High-Shryve of Suffex to be-sett the House of Edward Gage of Eyfeild Esq; where (as they were informed) Masse was sometimes said; on the daie of All Saintes next coming, in the forenoone; to commit to Prison all suspected persons, and seize upon all the Popish Trinketts they should find, &c.

8. Letter from Sir Francis Walsingham to Mr. Covert High-Shrive of Suffex, thanking him for his diligence in the execution of the service last mentioned, though sorry it took no better effect. Tells him he may keep the Pictures & Beads; but that he should return the Chalice, after he had defaced it so, as it might no more serve for a Chalice.

9. The Lord High Treasurer Burghley, as Master of the Court of Wards, to the same High-Sherife, requiring him not to make any returne of Burgeses to Parliament for the Town of Gatton in Surrey, till he should receive directions from him. Now Gatton (as I suppose) being depopulate, one Mr. Copley used to nominate Burgeses to serve in Parliament, as for that Town; and he being deceased, his heir was then, within age, and the Queen's Ward. (dat. 13 Nov. 1584.)

793.

A Book in fol. treating upon the History & Antiquities of Part of Yorkshire; containing,

1. Notes touching the History of the several Townes & Villages, or Hamletts, within the Hundred of Hang-west, in the North-Riding: written, as it seems, by one Mr. Jennyns, who was (as I have been informed) an industrious person, and composed an Ordinary of Arms, yet extant in the Library belonging to the College of Arms, where it bears his Name, & is looked upon as a Book of good use & authority (Another Copie of the same, is now here inscribed N^o 1577.)

2. And here it may be noted, once for all, that this Book, and the twelve that next follow, are collected from the Writings of that great Antiquary Mr. Roger Dodsworth, still preserved in the Bodleyan Library in Oxford: but with this difference, that what Mr. Dodsworth wrote sparingly, in his several Volumes, according as matter occurred to him, they place under the Name of the Towns to which such matter relates. And also, that whereas Mr. Dodsworth transcribed his Originals, in their own Language; they translate the same into English, even Epitaphs & Inscriptions.

Elizabeth would assist the Emperor against the Turks, or not. This Declaration (as it is called) is, in French, & seems to have been delivered to the Lords of the Council, unfolds the reasons of his Journey; many particulars relating to the Grand Seignior & his affairs; and particularly enlarges on the indiscreet & extravagant demeanor of the English Ambassador Burton then Resident at Constantinople. 65.

A thin parchment Book in 4to, wherein is contained, That well known old English Poem, called PIERRE PLOWMAN. Imperf.

One of the printed Editions ascribes it to Robert Longland: and from one of the MS. Copies, some have believed the author to be one John Malverne: but Le-land, pag. 423. says it was the unanimous tradition or opinion of the learned in his time, that Geoffrey Chaucer was the author of it; which to me seems the most probable, for several reasons.

The Author threatens to confider of the Law of Honor & Arms, with the Grounds of Heraldry in this Work; but his way of writing is so heavy & tedious, & his hand so scrabbling, that I believe few will have patience enough to read him over.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained, 1. A Visitation of Derby-shire, made by Will. Flower Norroy, & Robert Glover Portcullis, then in his company, A.D. 1569. with some additions by Ralfe Brooke, &c.

N.B. The Arms tricked or painted, in the margin of some other Copies, are wanting in this.

895.

A thin Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. The Arms of the English Nobility, from the Conquest to the end of the reign of Q. Mary the 1st, in Trick, taken as I believe from some Copie of Clarencieux Cooke's Creations, and not herein completed. And as that Book is known to be faultie in divers places with respect to the persons therein mentioned: so, I'me afraid the Arms here (and in other Copies of this kind) ascribed to them, are not always right.

A thick vellum Book in 12mo, (bought of me) being written by three different hands, which I shall here mention, though such remarks were not intended to be put into this shorter Catalogue.

1. The main body of the Book was (I believe) written in France, by some eminent Librarian or Book-writer, during the Reign of our K. Henry the third; who also adorned it with many curious & well drawn Pictures, the rudeness of the age considered. Among which Pictures, many (as may be seen) were intended to expose the wicked & inordinate lives of the then Clergy, who were hated by the Librarij, as taking away much of their business.

The Arraignment of Sir Walter Raleigh Kt. at Winchester, on Thursday the 17th of November, A.D. 1603. Upon the Trial, Sir Walter stood stoutly upon his Innocence, especially against Sir Edward Coke then Attorney General, whose zeal for the King threw him upon the frequent utterance of taunting, & ungentlemanly expressions. It appeared that his Accuser Henry Lord Cobham, had by a Letter to Sr. Walter, retracted all his Accusation, and afterwards retracted that retraction. That Sir Walter who (besides extreme ambition and impious opinions) was noted for Covetousness, had been dealt withall, to be a Spy to the Spaniards, for which he was to have a Pension of 1500 l. and yet had made no discovery of this Practice to the King, or any of his Ministers. That the Lady Arabella, whose Title the same Lord Cobham, & Thomas Lord Grey of Wilton had determined to set up, & whom they had begun to tamper with, had behaved herself with prudence & loyalty, and was therefore wholly clear of their Treasons: not to mention other Circumstances of less Moment, excepting this, that it was the Opinion of the Lawyers then, that a man might be sentenced to Death, upon the evidence of one only Witness: or without any Witness at all, to be brought in Court, face to face.

14. His behaviour at his Daughter's Marriage-Feast. 23.

15. How Cromwell, with one Bowtell of Suffolke, would see the King's Corps after he was beheaded; and opened the Coffin himself, with Bowtell's sword. 24.

An Heraldical MS. in thin fol. being a Note-book for Funerals. It contains,

1. Entrances of the Arms of divers, buried in the Years 1637, 1638, 1639, 1640, 1641, & 1648, whose Atchievements, Escocheons, &c. were furnished by John Withie; and their respective Arms are tricked by him.

Here it may be noted (once for all) that the Arms exhibited in this Book (as those also of the Book last described) are tricked, i. e. delineated or drawn, with Pen & Ink; which is the most usual way of entering or putting down Arms in Books. Therefore, if in describing the Arms in an Heraldical MS. I mention not in what manner they are done. I desire it may be understood that they are tricked, for if they happened to be colored or painted; or blazoned, i. e. described in Words or by Marks; I shall be sure to specify it accordingly.

2. Entrances of the Arms of Persons whose Funerals were served by John Sanders the Arms-Painter, or Painter-Stainer, in & from the Year 1681 to the Year 1687. 13. b.

This Mr. John Saunders was Deputie of the Ward of St. Dunstan's in the West; was a man of the like character with John Withie abovementioned (tho' I think Mr. Withie was the better Tricker of the two). He bought Mr. Withie's Books after his decease; & died himself in a good old age, about the Year 1687, as I have heard.

3. An Alphabetical Table of the Families whose Arms are entered into this Book; begun by Mr. Withie, and continued by Mr. Saunders. 60.

4. At the beginning of the Book, is a Sketch of a Vane which Mr. Saunders gave, & caused to be set up on the Steeple of St. Dunstan's in the West, 25 Sept. 1685.

5. A whimsical Atchievement, as for a Tipling Club or Society of Workmen, belonging to, or employed by the more substantial Painter-Stainers. Here are two Mottos; the one is NE QUID NIMIS, referring (as I suppose) to the Pewter (or Silver) Pot in the Escoccheon; the other being AD RIXATORES PUNIENDOS, & referring perhaps to the knotty Clubs drawn in & about the Escoccheon. 18.

- In this Collection, it may not be amiss to have regard to Mr. Saunders's expressions; as, at the first Coat he writes, Mr. Bell—AS AT HIS SON'S FUNERAL; whereby, I understand, that at his son's decease Mr. Bell applied to Mr. Saunders for his Arms, & that Mr. Saunders finding such Arms to have been borne by the Name of Bell, & being willing to take this Mr. Bell's Money, furnishes him with a sufficient Number of Escocheons for the Funeral, which yet, he did not understand, as if Mr. Bell or his Family had thereby any Right to use. The second Coat being that of Musters, has no such Note tack'd to it; whereby it is to be understood that Musters had really a Right to it; but then he said, per Brsh, i. e. that those Arms were not used by Musters as infisting on the antient & known Usage of his Family, but by the Grant of Sr. Edward Byshe, Garter King of Armes.

An Heraldical Book in fol. on the Back-side of which Mr. John Spicer caused the following Title to be affixed, "Withie's Visitation of Cheshire," which must not be understood as if Mr. Withie took or made any actual Visitation of the Gentlemen of that County; or that this Book was done by his hand;
but only that this being a very good Book in its kind did formerly belong to Mr. John Withie, who also inserted some Things therein, which will be presently mentioned. In this Book I find,

1. Pedegrees & Arms transcribed from the Book of the Visitation of the County Palatine of Chester made A.D. 1580, by William Flower Norroy & Robert Glover Somerfet, his Marshall; done (as it seems) for the most part by Sir Henry St. George; to which some few Arms and Notes have been added by Mr. John Withie, and Mr. John Saunders.

2. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in the preceding Visitation; drawn up by Mr. Withie, and referring to it, according to the old notation of Pages.

3. Part of the Original Papers of Arms & Pedegrees of the Cheshire Gentlemen, allowed at the Visitation made of the same County. A.D. 1613, by Richard St. George Norroy, and (in his company) Henry St. George his son, who perhaps might then be Blew-mantle. Most of these Papers are subscribed by the hands of the Gentlemen themselves; and the Arms & Pedegrees are, for the most, done by the hands of Sr. Richard St. George & Sr. Henry St. George his son, above-mentioned. The rest (which is but little) was done by Mr. John Withie & others. (The remaining part of this Original Book of Visitation, is said to be in the Herald's Office.)

In this Book, I also find,

4. The Names of those that weare disclaimed in Cheshire, viz. at this Visitation A.D. 1613.

5. The Names of all the Mannors or Lordships, Townes & Landes, which Sr. Geoffrey the sonne of Adam de Dutton, gave to certeyn of his Gentlemen & Yeamen.

6. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in this other Visitation of Cheshire; made by John Withie.

A Book in fol. made A.D. 1613, by Mr. Withie, and by him thus entituled,

The Nobility of Ireland; their Titles, Coats, Crests, Supporters, and Mottoes: sett forth in their severall Coullers, by me John Withy.

NB. Divers of the Mottoes, & some of the Supporters & Crests are omitted; perhaps, because Mr. Withie could not gett them.

of Clarencieux Cooke's, in the yeare of our Lord 1598. May the 20th."  As also,

And taken by me John Withie, who rode Painter in the said Visitation, Anno 1623.

NB. The last Atchievement of the Earls, is that of Richard Burgh, who was created Earl of St. Albans, 3 April, A.D. 1628. The last of the Viscounts is that of Thomas Wentworth (afterwards Earl of Stafford) who was created Viscount Wentworth 10 Decemb. A.D. 1628. The last of the Barons is that of Henry Herbert who was created Baron of Cherbury 7 May, A.D. 1629.

If this be a true Grant, it is the oldest that I have, as yet, met with. But the Date makes me believe it to have been forged, it running in these Words, "Donné le 8 jour d'Auril le 34 an du Regne de nostre dit Seigneur Edward fitz au Roy Henry, et depuis la Conquest le primer du Nom." 'Tis notorious that the Phrase since the Conquest, was first applied to K. Edward the Third; not to insist upon the diction, which seems more modern than the time it pretends to.

2. At the beginning, is an alphabetical Table referring to the said Suffex Pedegrees.

An Heraldical Book in fol. the Leaves whereof are both inverted and misplaced through the careless Neglect of the Book-binder. In it are contained,

1. Part of a Transcript out of the Visitation-Book of the County of Buckinghamshire made A.D. 1634 by John Philipot Somerset, and William Ryley Blew-Mantle, Marshalls & Deputies to Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux, and Sir John Borough Norroy, King of Arms; who visited jointly.

In this Copie of that Visitation-book, I farther observe.

9. Arms of the Essex-Gentry; tricked in printed Escocheons.

Some of these Arms, namely in fol. 16. & 17. appear to be put down by Mr. John Gough; whereby his hand, both in writing & tricking, may be farther observed; as in fol. 32. 33. 40. and in many more places both in this, and other Books.

10. It may be noted that Jacob Chaloner has brought down many of the Pedigrees to the year 1614. at which time the Visitation of this County was taken by John Raven Richmond Herald, Deputie & Marshal to William Camden Clarenceux; to which Mr. Gough has made some later additions; particularly from that Visitation which was made of this County, A.D. 1634. by George Owen York Herald, & Henry Lilly Rouge-Rose, for Sr. Henry St. George Clarenceux & Sr. John Borough Norroy.

2. Arms of the City & See of Hereford, in Blazon.

3. Pedegrees of the Herefordshire Families, with Arms, & other Notes; which by reason of the varietie of the Dates, seem not to be a Copie from any Visitation but rather a collection of Mr. Penfon's own making.

4. Arms of Herefordshire Families.

5. Knights in the County of Hereford, in the tyme of Edward the first, with their Arms in Blazon.

6. The

Num. 1140, 1141.

9. Alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in the preceding Pedegrees. 140. b.

1141.

An Heraldical Book in fol. which being remarkable, I shall more particularly describe. I find in it,

1. A Page wherein are the Arms of 16 Families impaled by, or impaling Wyndham; they belong not to the following Work, but are added to it.
2. The ORIGINAL Book of the Visitation of the County of Somerset, as it was taken A.D. 1623. by Henry St. George Esq. Richmond Herald; & Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, Marshalls and Deputies to William Camden Clarenceux. 1.

Many of the Pedegrees are sett down by the hands of the abovementioned Officers of Arms, and especially by the former: the rest are done by others whose hands I know not.

The greatest part of the Pedegrees are subscribed by the particular Persons attending to give information of their several Descents at the Visitation; but why they are not all subscribed in the like manner, I cannot say.

There are but few Arms in this Book; and on the top of the Pedegrees, are putt a Cross or two made with red Chalk, and sometimes the Word ENTERED. The reasons of these, I take to be that at the Visitations, the Officers of Arms took the Descents on loose Quires or Sheets of Paper, omitting (for the most part) the Arms, especially if they found the same agreeable to those in the Book or Books which they brought along with them. Or if the Painter took a Trick of such Arms, it would be a great Accident if the same came to be inserted in, or pasted on these loose Papers. When the Officers were returned home from their Visitation, every One of their loose original Papers were fairly transcribed or ENTERED into a Book, which became the Office-book for that Visitation, and the said loose original Papers were oftentimes neglected or forgotten, or not demanded, or not delivered up; so that after the decease of the said Officers, or of the Painters who attended at those Visitations, or were otherwise employed by them, many of these original Papers (sometimes not so much as bound up together) came into the hands of those who took care to preserve them; and others seem to be utterly lost.

Sometimes it has happened that such like original Papers, while they were loose, & not numbred, were transcribed by several People; which seems to be one reason, why the many Copies of such or such a Visitation-book, do not begin & go on like; but that a descent which is at the beginning of one Copie, shall be toward the middle, or end of another.

And by transcribing from such original Papers, the Copies come to differ in the number of the Arms, because each Copist, or after-Owner of such a Book, might be more or less able to supply his Book with the Arms wanting.

As to the Seals of Corporations, I find many in these original Books tricked with Curiosity enough; except as to the Letters of the Epigraphe or Circumscription, which the Painters might have copied with much more truth & exactness, if they had thought it worth the while.

These Remarks may serve for the other original Books of this kind, in this Library.

Num. 1141—1144.

In this Book I find registered, besides some Seals of Families, & Notes from old Deeds,

3. The Seals of the City of Wells. 13. b.
4. The Seals of the Town & Borough of Bridgwater. 14.
5. The Seals of the Town & Borough of Axbridge. 30. b.
6. The Seals & Arms of the City of Bath. 34.
7. Alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedigrees are described in this Visitation. 133.
8. Then follow divers additional Pedegrees, with Arms, done by divers hands; the first whereof I take to be, for the most part, done by the hand of Richard Mundy, an eminent Herald-Painter; but who continued it I cannot as yet learn, though I find much of his hand in this Library, at the College of Arms, and in the private Collections or Studies of Painters. 134. b.
9. Names of the disclaimed at this Visitation. 136. b. & 137. b.
10. The Remainder of the additional Pedegrees abovementioned, at N^o 8. 137. 138. to 143.

1142.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein is contained,

In this Copie, the Arms are omitted, excepting some few which are putt down in Blazon; but the names of the Subscribers to their Pedegrees are sett down.

2. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of those Families whose Pedegrees are described in this Book.

1143.

An Heraldical Book in thin fol. entituled both on the outside, & within, "A Book of single Coates of Wales:" But the Tract contained therein beareth this that follows,

The ancient Descent of and worthy Gentlemen springing from Wales, and now sondry of them Great Howfend of Honor, of Worship in England.

I have seen divers Copies of this Tract; and therefore take leave to specify that it is an older, and more complete Copie than that in this Library, marked, N^o 137^a as containing 197 Coats, all in Colours; beginning with Kadwallader, & ending with Bowld. Every Coat is ascribed to the Patriarch of some Family (if I may say so) and the Place of Residence of his Posterity is particularly mentioned.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Guyfts of Arms, and Confirmations, both moderne & antient. The Person who designed to make a Collection of this kind, stopped in the beginning of his Course; he having putt down but two, vizt. those of Wheeler of London Goldsmith, descended out of Worcester-shire, & Peers of West-downe in Kent. 1. b.

Then follow a few miscellaneous Pedegrees, sett down by

2. Descent & Arms of Whetham attested by William Ryley, Lancaster-Herald. 3. b.

11. Descent & Arms of Thornton of Yorkshire. 13. b.
12. Descent of Croft of Yorkshire; with the Arms and Crest as granted by William Ryley, Norroy. 14.
- At the other end of the Book, I find entered by the hand of the same
13. Some few Arms of divers Families, hastily tricked. 1.
14. Descents & Arms of Hobildey. 1. b. & 8.
15. Descent of Keblewhite, as approved by William, Ryley, Norroy. 3.
16. Descendants from Arthur Plantagenet, natural son to K. Edward iv. 5. b.
17. Descent & Arms of Comport. 6.

1. The Names of the Gentlemen summoned to attend their Visitation, according to the several precincts wherein they did respectively dwell; with short Notes showing whose Descents were entered; who were rejected as Ignobles; the excuses sent by many who did not appear; and some other matters relating to the same Visitation.
2. An alphabetical Table of Surnames, referring to most of the abovementioned. At the end.

3. These Descents following, were taken by George Owen alias Yorke-Herald, & Henry Lilly Rouge-Rose, in the last Visitation made for the County of Essex; anno 1634. they being Marshalls & Deputies to Sr. Richard St. George Clarenceux, & Sr. John Borough Norroy, who (by Agreement) visited each others Province jointly. 105. to 157.

An Heraldical Book in a long & thin fol. all written & tricked by the hand of Thomas Knight, who was first Rouge-Croix, & afterwards Chester-Herald. It contains,

Part of the Pedegrees of the Gentry of the County of Salop, copied (as I suppose) from those registred at the Visitation thereof A.D. 1584, by Richard Lee Portullis, for Robert Cooke Clarenceux.

An Heraldical Book in fol. for the most part written by the hands of Henry St. George Richmond Herald, & Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-mantle; wherein are contained,

1. Most of the Pedegrees of the Cornish Gentry, as they were herein registred by the above-named Officers of Arms, A.D. 1620, when they visited the County of Cornwall as Marshalls & Deputies to William Camden, Clarenceux; and subscribed by the hands of those Gentlemen who gave the Informations touching their several Descents.

Farther, I take leave to observe,

2. That in taking the Descents, the said Officers entered the same into loose Quires of Paper (if I may use that term, for a number of Sheets exceeding 24.) as may plainly enough appear by fol. 50. & 51. by fol. 117. b. by the last Leaf of the Book; & by the sewing of the same. And that in process of time (after they had been copied by some, & before they were transcribed by others) they were bound up together by Mr. Sampson Lennard, whose Arms are stamped on the Cover.

3. That most of the Descents registred herein being to be transcribed, as out of the proper Original, into a Book for the use of the Office; such as were to be copied or entered into the said New Book, were marked with a certain Mark, thus * (which I know not how to Term Heraldically; but every one knows the Musicians call it a Sharp) as soon any of these Descents were thus described in the Office-Book, the Copyist wrote this Word "Entred," upon the same. And this I take to be the reason why that Word, & that Mark are so often set down in this Book, either with Black Lead or Red Chalk.

4. For a Confirmation of what I have written concerning the Signification of that Mark so put down in this and other like Books (touching which I have asked divers well-skilled in Heraldry, without receiving a positive Answer from them) I find, that at fol. 12. 16. b. 21. b. 151. 145. b. it is omitted; those Descents being directed to be entered in the Visitation-book of Devonshire (For the Officers abovementioned, did also visit the County of Devon, A.D. 1620.) and when they were accordingly registred in the Devonshire Book, I suppose the Word "Entred," was to have been put over them.

5. The said Mark is also omitted in other Places, as it seems, for several reasons, vizt. at fol. 8. 16. 27. the Persons whose Descents are there noted, being perhaps disclaimed, or did not pay their Fees. And that this might be a Reason for leaving out such Descents, seems plain from fol. 2. b. whereon was this Note, now dashed out, "Not to be enter'd, but to be disclaimed;" under which is written "This must be entred;" and accordingly the Word "Entred," is written above the Descent, & the Mark * with Red Chalk as usual. As to the omission of the said Mark at the Descent of Penfonn. fol. 121. I know not what to say; whether it be now quite worn off (as others are almost gone) or that it was passed over by mistake. For the Word "Enter'd" is plain enough over the Descent, tho' the Descent itself is wanting in Mr. Withie's Copie of this Visitation. Not to mention this, that the Information touching this Descent, is not subscribed by any of the Name, but by one Philipp Hodgsham for Mr. Pignorie Penfonn.

6. In some places the usual Word "Entred" is omitted, where the * is expressed, as relating to either Extracts from Deeds, or to Descents, as at fol. 73. b. 109. b. 124. as it should seem by the oversight of the Copist neglecting the due Entrance of them. Thus after fol. 133. he seems to have turned over two Leaves together instead of one, there being no "Entred" on fol. 133. b. & 134. a. whereas there are Twelve Marks * or +, and in fol. 134. b. & 135. the Entrances are observed duly enough. Nor should the turning over of two Leaves together instead of one, be much wonder'd at, since many have, in haste, done so; even these Officers themselves, as may be seen at fol. 90. b. & 91. In other places the said Word is also omitted, namely at fol. 116. b. where the Descent is crossed, as I suppose for not paying the Fees: At fol. 127. & 170. b. perhaps through negligence, the Descents being in Mr. Withie's Copie: And here it may be also noted, that the Crossing out a Descent in an Original Book, is not always to be understood against the Family there mentioned; because, what is crossed at fol. 115. b. is again enter'd at fol. 171. b.

7. In some Places, both the * & the word "Entred," are wanting; as at the first Leaf of the Book, which plainly appears to be an Addition; not belonging to the Quire beginning at fol. 1. & ending with fol. 50. And 'tis needless to observe that Richard Lord Arundell of Tre-ryse, created so by K. Charles the Second, A.D. 1665, could not be registred as such, A.D. 1620. The Leaf 84. is also a single Leaf pasted to fol. 83. The Descent of Petit, at fol. 118. b. is also of the same late hand, which wrote that of Arundel, in the first Page.

8. As to the Arms of Families in this Book, they are but few; and, for the most part, added by Henry Parker

Num. 1162, 1163.

ker the Painter, as I suppose; whose hand-writing also (by way of Addition to some Pedegrees) appeareth in fol. 49. b. 50. 122. b. &c. but particular Directions relating to the Arms of some Families, which were to be entred into the Office-book, may be seen at fol. 153. 158. 159. 160. & 168.

Moreover I find in this Book,

9. The Grant of Arms to John Bonnatre Gent. by William Hawkeslowe Clarenceux. dat. 1 April, ann. 20 Hen. vi.

10. Copie of a Warrant of K. Henry VIII. whereby he gave Licence to Stephen Tucker of Lamartyn in Com. Devon. Gentleman; to wear his Bonnet upon his Head as well in his presence, as elsewhere; i. e. at Divine Service; and this in respect of certayne Diseases & Infirmities (perhaps a Scald Head, or Leprosie) attending the said Mr. Tucker. dated 2 July, anno regni 10. Sir Henry St. George, or somebody else for him, has endeavoured to imitate the King's Hand & Signet. 68.

It seems as if the Descendants of this Mr. Tucker thought the Warrant abovementioned to be a glorious Mark of the King's Favor to their Ancestor & Family; which really was only a Liberty procured for him, that in such Places where he (as well as his Superiors) must otherwise have been uncovered; he might by wearing a Bonnet or Cap hide a loathsome Sight. See this Catalogue where (from MS. No. 1856. fol. 7. b.) another Instance may be seen of that King's giving a like Warrant to Bartholomew Hesketh, because of divers Infirmities in his Hede.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written (for the most part) by Sir Henry St. George while only Richmond-Herald, & Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle; being the greatest part of those Papers wherein they registred the Descents of the Gentry of the County of Devon, at the Visitation thereof made for William Camden Clarenceux, A.D. 1620. in the same method with that relating to Cornwall, last mentioned.

1. This Book consists of six double Quires of Paper, whereinto (while they were yet loose) the several Pedegrees were entered into them, and subscribed by the Gentry who gave or sent the Informations. Afterward they were bound up together by Mr. Lennard, whose Arms appear on the Cover.

2. Before these Pedegrees were to be transcribed from his ORIGINAL Book, into another Book for the OFFICE, they were reviewed, and this Mark * put upon those Descents, & Proofs from Deeds which were to be transcribed; which when done accordingly, the Copyist put also thereon the Word "Entred;" as in the former Book.

3. Thus it may be seen, that one Whyte proving that his Father had the Stile of Gentleman, in certain Deeds, had his Descent registred (at fol. 7. b.) & subscribed the same; and it was marked * in order to be registred in the Office-book: but upon further Consideration, that he had not shewed any Right he had to Arms, these Words were written upon it, "To be disclaimed," and therefore the Word "Entred" is not added to it. The Arms on the Margin were put down afterwards, by Henry Parker as I suppose; who seems to have put down divers others herein.

4. Some other Descents, where there are no notices of any Entrances thereof made into the Office-Book, may be seen at fol. 80. b. & 84. b. 257, &c.

5. The Descent of Norleigh is noted to have been entred by a "Misinformation," and is therefore struck out, at fol. 210. b. Some others in like manner struck out, may be seen at foll. 118. 131. And the particular direction of Mr. St. George, at fol. 160. about entering the Descent of Yeo, is not unworthy of Remark.

6. The Descent of Fulford, fastened in, between the Leaves 213. & 214. is a later Addition, and belongs not to the original Papers.

7. Towards the end of the 5th Quire, namely at fol. 218. one Henry Parker, an Arms-Painter, has added a Descent of his own Family (a Tradition about it, & his forging the same, is still among the Heralds.) He mentions himself & his Children at fol. 220. stiling himself Possessor hujus Libri, from whence his hand-writing, so frequently seen, may be certainly & easily known. It seems, that after the death of Mr. Lennard, his Books came into the hands of this Mr. Parker; before that Robert Fisher bought them; and then he put in this his own Descent, which wants the * and the usual Word "Entred."

8. This same Henry Parker also finding (at fol. 153.) a Descent of his Name, duely subscribed, and from thence entred into the Office-book; has much enlarged the same, both in that & the preceding page.

9. He has also made some other Additions, at fol. 141. b. & 147. &c.

10. The Descents also of Drake, &c. 220. b. &c. are added to this original Book, by Parker & others.

In this Book, I also find,

11. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Descents are herein set down. 280.

12. Descent of Fynes, Viscount Say & Sele, from Wickham; written by Henry Parker, after fol. 283.

13. Descent & Arms of Warren of Rame in Cornwall; set down by Henry Parker after fol. 284.

An Heraldical Book in fol. for the most part, written by the hand of Sampson Lennard Blew-mantle, A. D. 1620, when he with Henry St. George Esq. then Richmond-Herald, took the Visitation of the Counties of Devon & Cornwall; this Book being a part of the original Visitation Book of each of them, and therefore should have been bound up together with the two Books last described.

That this Book is the Original, appears plainly enough from the hands of the Gentlemen & Magistrates, &c. who gave the Information; from the usual Word "Entred" putt upon the Pedegrees with Black Lead, or Red Chalk; and divers other convincing Notes. Why the usual Mark * or + being a direction to the Transcriber, should be all along omitted, I cannot say positively.

This Book being not only the Original, for so much as it contains; but otherwise rare, in escaping the Transcription of most of the Arms-Painters, I shall describe more particularly; as follows,

1. At the beginning is an alphabetical Table containing the Surnames of those Families whose Descents are registred herein.

2. That part of this Book, which relates to Devonshire; begins at fol. 1. & ends at fol. 54.

And herein I find the Arms & Seals of divers Corporations, curiously tricked: vizt.

3. The Common Seal of the City of Exeter. 3. b.

4. The Arms & Common Seal of the City of Exeter.

5. The Arms (or Seal) of the Merchant-Adventurers of the County & City of Exeter.

6. The Arms of the Guilde & Fraternitie of St. John Baptist, of the Marchant Taylors of the Cittie of Exeter.

- (NB. I have been told, that, for this fact, both Sir William & Ralf were put into the Marshalsea; where the latter was long detained.)

1165.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by Henry St. George Esq. & others, upon three loose Quires of Paper, which were afterwards bound up together in their present condition, by Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, as it seems.

1. This Mr. Parker has given it the Title following; "The Visitation of Wiltshire, taken A° 1623, by Henry St. George Richmond & Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, Marshals & Deputies to William Camden, Clarentiux, King of Armes." And this Book by the Subscriptions of those who gave the Informations; and by the Marks made with Black Lead, or Red-Chalk, relating to their being "Entred" into the Office book, appears to be the Original.

2. These Marks are Crosses thus + made above the Pedegrees, Extracts from antient Evidences, &c. which were the Directions for entering the same into another Book for the Office: which being done, I suppose that the Copyist made another, either near it or upon it. Thus, most of the Pedegrees appear doubly crossed x x or * &c. without writing the Word "Entred," as in the other Books last described.

3. In this Book there are Notes relating to the Descents, or Arms of many Families; whether they were proved, or wanted proof; whether those who were summoned to attend, were respited, &c.

4. Some of these Pedegrees have received Additions from Mr. Henry Parker the Arms-painter, as appears by his hand, at fol. 27. 27. b. 28. 29. 31. b. 33. b. 34. b. &c.

The Arms and Seals of Corporations, tricked in this Book, are,

5. The Arms & Seale of the Towne & Borough of Merleberge. 12. b.

6. The Armes & Seales of the Cittie of New Sar. 13.

7. The Common Seale of the Town & Borough of Malmesburie. 32. b.

8. The Common Seale of the Towne & Bouroughe of Chippenham. 33.

9. The Common Seale of the Towne & Bouroughe of Wotton-Basset. 60. b.

10. The Arms & Common Seals of the Guild & Stewards of the Towne & Bouroughe of Calne. 62. b.

11. The Common Seal of the Towne & Borough of Wilton. 63.

12. The Armes & Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of the Devises. 88. b.

13. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are described in this Book. 101.

14. A Note of all such as have usurpt the Name & Titles of Gentlemen without authoritie, & were disclaimed at Salisbury in the County of Wiltsheire, in September, Anno 1623. 105.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written upon three large Quires of Paper when loose (which have been since bound up together, perhaps, by Henry Parker the Arms-Painter) by Mr. Henry St. George then Richmond-Herald, Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, and others, A.D. 1623, when they took the Visitation of the County of Dorset, for Mr. William Camden, Clarenceux.

By the Subscriptions of the Gentlemen who gave Information, by the hands of Mr. St. George & Mr. Lennard, by the Mark + or x made with Red Chalk over every Descent, being a more sure Note of its being "Entred"

Num. 1166, 1167.

"Entered" into the Office-book; & by divers other Notes occurring herein, this appears to be the Original.

1. I have heretofore observed, that at the Visitations, the Officers of Arms did not usually trick the Arms of the Gentry, in their loose Papers along with their Pedegrees; although they did not at the same time neglect the Seals of Corporations & private Families. And I believe that most of the Arms found in this Book tricked with Pen or Pencil, were added by Mr. Henry Parker the Arms Painter; whose handwriting also appears at fol. 31. 33. 39 b. 49. b. and in divers other places. Herein also may be found, Tricks of

2. The Common Seals of the Town of Weymouth & Melcomb Regis. 8.

3. The Armes & Common Seal of the Towne & Borough of Brideport. 8. b.

4. The Common Seales of the Towne & Borough of Dorchester. 21.

5. The Armes & Common Scale of the Towne & Borough of Pole. 27.

Moreover, I find herein,

6. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents were registred at this Visitation. 82.

7. Tricks of fifteen Coats, born by so many Families of different Counties, by Grants or otherwise, here put down by Henry Parker with black lead only, for the most part. 86.

8. A Note of all such as have usurpt the Names & Titles of Gentlemen without Authoritie; and were disclaimed at Bridport, & Dorchester, in September A.D. 1623. At the end.

1167.

An Heraldical Book in fol. before which Mr. Henry Parker has written this Title,

1. "The Visitation of the County of Warwick; taken Anno 1619. by Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, & Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, being Marshalls & Deputies for William Camden Clarentiux, King of Armes."

This Book is almost entirely written by the hand of the said Mr. Lennard; and being bound up by his Order, has his Arms stamped on the Cover. This Book wants all the hands of those Gentlemen who gave Information touching their respective Descents (excepting that of Mr. John Kynnersley, at 30. b.) and therefore cannot be the Original: and some of the original Papers so subscribed at this Visitation, are yet extant in the Book inscribed 66. c. 22. as will appear, in its proper place.

2. Although this be not the Original, it appears to be transcribed from the original loose Papers by Mr. Lennard, & others who wrote those Papers, or such like, at other Visitations taken by this Mr. Lennard, the Identity of the hands being plain in many places. And it is observable, that the Corporation Seals, & many of the Arms are tricked in this Book by the same Painter who rode with him to this & other Visitations, & tricked them in the original Papers.

3. The original Book at the College of Arms, is no more an original Book than this; consisting not of the loose Papers abovementioned, but of a fair Transcript of the same by Mr. Augustine Vincent & Mr. Sampson Lennard; with the Seals, &c. tricked by the same hand which delineated those in this Copie. But then many of the Pedegrees, especially in Mr. Vincent's part, are subscribed by the hands of the Gentlemen who gave the Information; which makes the College Book authentic, especially so far as those hands go. Hereby it seems that these Officers of Arms, caused the Pedegrees they took from the Information of the Gentry in the loose Papers, to be signed by them immediately. And before they were dismissed, there was a fair Transcript of the same got ready, to which they likewise subscribed. I suppose that Mr. Lennard designed this Book for that use; but by that in the College of Arms, it should seem that Mr. Vincent was rather inclined to bring into the Office, the Descents registred by him at this Visitation all written by himself. Mr. Kynnersley's hand, is also put to his Pedegree in the said Book.

Num. 1167—1169.

4. Whether that Book aforesaid in the Library of the College of Arms was transcribed from this, I will not now determine, although it may seem likely enough, this having a Cross + or + + made with Red Chalk or Black Lead, at the top of almost every Descent, which that Book wants. So that if that Book was not a Copie of this, I believe some other Book in the same Office was, before that might be brought in by Mr. Lennard & Mr. Vincent aforesaid. For that the Officers who took the Visitation, did not presently bring into the Office the authentic Books or Registries of the same, may appear by the conduct of Mr. Nicholas Charles Lancaster-Herald, who took the Visitation of the County of Huntingdon (a small County) A.D. 1613, but did not bring into the Office his Registry or Visitation-book thereof until the 5th of May A.D. 1621.

In this Book also, are preserved the Tricks of

5. The Common Seale of the Borough of Warwick. 60.

6. The Armes of the Cittye of Coventrie. 65.

7. The Seale of the Borough of Stratford upon Avon. 76.

8. The Seale of the Towne of Sutton Colfield. 99.

9. Some few Additions of Mr. Henry Parker may be discerned, at fol. 53. b. 115. 119. b. 120. &c.

10. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are entered in this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Copie of that Visitation-book of the County of Durham, as it was taken A.D. 1615, by Richard St. George Esq. Norroy, & his son Henry St. George then Blew-mantle, in his Company. (Herein most of the Names of the Gentlemen subscribed to their respective Descents are omitted.) 4. b.

2. A Note of all such Persons as were disclaimed in the Time of his Visitation, 1615. 2.

3. The Arms of the Gentry of the Bishoprick of Durham, registred at the "owld Vefetation," A.D. 1575, by William Flower Norroy, & in his company Robert Glover Portcullis. 58.

1169.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by divers hands; wherein are contained,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are described in the Tract next ensuing. 1.

2. A large Collection of the Pedegrees of Suffolk Families; which by reason of the great variety of the Dates, appears to be taken from no one Visitation-Book of this County; although it be plain that many of them were copied from that of John Raven Richmond-Herald, which he made about A.D. 1612, for William Camden Clarenceux, King of Arms. 5. b.

Who it was that made this Collection, I cannot certainly say; though it is not unlikely that William Winchell

Num. 1169—1171.

Winchell of London Painter-Stainer who married Mary the daughter of the said John Raven, might do it. (see the said Ravens Pedegree at 61.)

The Vacancies in some places of this Collection, were afterwards filled up by another hand, to me as yet unknown. And some few Additions of Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, may be discerned in foll. 28. 55. b. 81. 96. b. &c.

Then follow,

3. A Fragment of a Copie of the Pedegrees of Devonshire Families, registred by William Hervey Clarenceux, at his Visitation of that County (which seems to have been begun A.D. 1562.) by way of Narration. 125.

4. Some few Pedegrees of Devonshire Families, perhaps taken from the Visitation-book of that County made A.D. 1620, by Henry St. George Esq. Richmond Herald, & Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, for William Camden Clarenceux. 127. b.

5. Another like fragment of William Hervey's Visitation-book of Devonshire above-mentioned. 139. b.

An Heraldical Book in fol. all written by the hand of . . . wherein are contained,

A Collection of the Pedegrees of Cheshire-Families; extracted, as it seems, from divers Visitation Books of that County; vizt. that of A.D. 1566, made by William Flower, Norroy; that of 1580, made by the same William Flower & Robert Glover, Somerset-Herald; & that of A.D. 1612. & 1613. made by Richard St. George Norroy, & Mr. Henry St. George his son; and some other Authorities.

2. To many of these Pedegrees, the Arms of the respective Families are added, being tricked by . . .

3. An alphabetical Table of the Names of Families, whose Pedegrees are set forth in this Book. At the end.

1. Part of the Visitation-book of the County of York, as it was taken A.D. 1575. by William Flower Esq. Norroy, which has in some places the usual signs of the Original Papers; but whether these are so, or not, I will not take upon me to determine. These Signs are, The Word "Entred," written at divers of the Descents, with Red Ink; as at fol. 4. 5. b. 7. b. 8. 10. 15. b. 44. b. 45. b.

2. A Copy of the Visitation-book of Staffordshire, as it was made A.D. 1583. by Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, Marshal & Deputy to William Flower Norroy. 1.

I take this to be a Copie of John Withie's Book, extant in this Library, & inscribed 65 B. 11. But it is to be noted, that notwithstanding many gross faults in this Copy, through the ignorance and carelessness of the Copyiste, it is of value because of many considerable Additions made to it, which are wanting in Mr. Withie's Book; as Mr. Withie's also has many recent Additions inserted into it, since this Transcript was made.

I believe I have elsewhere observed that Mr. Robert Glover who took this Visitation of A.D. 1583, was a very good Officer; and therefore besides Church-Notes, Tricks of Family-Seals, & Abstracts of antient Evidences; we meet with the following remarkables herein, vizt.

13. Form of the same Herald's Warrant, directed to the High Constables of each Hundred, to summon the Esquires & Gentlemen inhabiting within their precincts, to appear before him; with a particular Reflection upon one William Dakins the late lewde Usurper of the Office of Norroy King of Armes. 86. b.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written, & good part of it tricked by the hand of Mr. Sampson Lennard, whose Arms are stamped upon the Cover. It contains,

1. The Visitation-book of the County of Leicestershire, as it was taken A.D. 1619, by Mr. Sampson Lennard afore-said Blew-Mantle, & Mr. Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Pourfuivants of Arms, being Marshalls & Deputies to Mr. William Camden, Clarenceux.

2. This Book is not composed of those loose Quires of Paper, whereunto those Gentlemen who gave the Information sett their hands; although one original Subscription may be found therein, namely at fol. 5. b.

3. The Pedegrees registred herein are all marked with one or more Croffes, of Red Chalk or Black Lead, denoting there being copied from hence, for the use of the Office or Officers of Arms.

4. Mr. Vincent & Mr. Lennard being both skilfull Officers, have inserted into this Registry of their Visitation, divers Extracts from the antient Evidences of Families, and Tricks of several observable Seals appendant to them. Besides which, herein may be found,

5. Tricks of the several Arms & Seals, used by the Corporation of the Borough of Leicester; tricked as it seems, by Mr. Richard Munday; who perhaps might ride Painter at this Visitation. 87. b.

Since the writing of this Book, & the transcribing the same, certain Entrances have been made by other hands, which are not marked with the abovementioned Croffes; as,

6. An Account of the Fees & Rewards given to the Officers of Arms 24th March, A. D. 1619; by Prince Charles & divers Lords at their first entrance into the Tilt-yard. 56.

7. Arms of Sir Arthur Heselrigg, as they were marshalled; A.D. 1644, tricked by Henry Parker. 42.

8. An erroneous Descent of Cater of Leicestershire; put down by the said Henry Parker. 4.

To these I may add the Notice of some Continuations of Pedegrees; as;

9. The Descent of Noell, is continued by Henry Parker; and as I think, by Robert Fisher the Arms Painter. 5. b. & 6. Farther, this Hen. Parker's hand may be seen in 68. b. 16. b. 17.

10. Descent of Welleborough, entred by Richard Mundy (who seems also to have tricked many of the Family Arms in this Book.) 17. b.

11. Continuation of the Descent of Beaumont; by Augustine Vincent. 34.

12. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are entred into this Book.

1181.

An Heraldical MS. in fol. written & tricked by the same hand as the Book, perhaps by one Joseph Wright.

N^o 1179. pag. 1. and wanting the Subscriptions of the Gentlemen who gave Information touching their respective Descents as that does. It contains,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Wiltes. as made & taken A.D. 1565. by William Hervey Clarenceux.

2. At the beginning, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Pedegrees are herein set forth.

Other remarkables of this Copie are,

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A good Copie of the Account of the English Nobility since the Conquest, and of their several Creations, in each King's reign, commonly ascribed to Robert Cooke Clarenceux King of Arms.

2. The Arms of each Nobleman, are both painted & described by Blazon.

3. The Work is continued down to the Creation of Sir Thomas Knyvet, Lord Knyvet of Estrick, 4th July, 1607.

4. At the beginning is an alphabetical Table of Surnames.

1184.

An Heraldical MS. in fol. written & tricked by different hands; wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Northampton, as it was made & taken A.D. 1618. & 1619. by Augustin Vincent Rouge-Rose Pourfuivant of Arms, Marshal & Deputy to William Camden Clarenceux.

This Mr. Vincent being a learned Antiquary, & curious Man, one might well expect that his Visitation-books should abound with Tricks of antique Seals, Church-Notes, & Transcripts of Records & other Evidences: the contrary whereof appears, this being barely a Register of the Descents & Arms of the Northamptonshire, wherein all the extraordinary matters, are only these that follow.

2. Some Church Notes relating to the Family of Castebie. 93.

3. Richard Wilmer's Epitaph in the Church of Rye-ton upon Dunnesmore in Com. Warr.. 115.

4. Some Notes touching the Family of Bigot Earl of Norfolk. 116. b.

And herein I find,

3. The Arms, Crest, & Supporters of the Towne of Southampton.

4. Notes touching those who were disclaimed in this Visitation.

5. Arms of the City of Winchester. (Here is a Note, shewing those to be Arms of Doncaster; but it appears to be otherwise by 81 B. 10. fol. 265.)

6. Towards the end, are the Arms of divers Families of this County, but without any Pedegrees.

1187.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by different hands: wherein are contained two Treatises. At the beginning, I find,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of those Families whose Pedegrees are registred in the following Work.

3. A Copy of the Visitation-book of the County of Northampton, as the same was made & taken A.D. 1618 & 1619. by Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshall & Deputie to William Camden Clarenceux.

This Copie is preferable to that inscribed N^o 1184. &c. as containing divers laboured Pedegrees, Church Notes, Extracts from Records, & Charters, &c. not entred into them: among which are some Notes and Queries of Mr. Henry Ferrers of Tamworth Castle, touching the Family of Cateby.

This part of the Book, may possibly have been written by Mr. John Gough the Arms-Painter: The other part is of a hand plainly different, and is thus entituled,

4. The Visitation of the County of Leicestershire, taken by Sampson Lennard alias Blew-mantle, and Augustine Vincent alias Rouge-Rose, Pursuivants of Armes, A.D. 1619.

The remarkables of this Copie are these,

5. It omits all Church Notes, and other Proofs; as also all Tricks of the Family-Arms; excepting some few Crests.

6. The Pedegrees are extended from the Schemes Genealogical (wherein they were taken by the Officers abovementioned, as appears by the original Papers) into a verbal Narration, according to the old way of entring such Pedegrees.

7. The Arms of the several Families are put down in Blazon.

8. The Matches of each Family are noted in the margin.

Num. 1187—1190.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Part of the Visitation-book of Northamptonshire, as taken A.D. 1618. & 1619. by Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshall & Deputie to William Camden Clarenceux.

Note, this Copie agrees with that abovementioned in the Description of the Book N^o 1187, so far as it goes; and is written by the same hand.

2. Alphabet in Blazon of the Arms of the Northamptonshire Gentry.

3. Some additional Pedegrees entered by the first hand, & by Henry Parker.

4. Henry Parker's alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents, or Matches are described in this Book. At the beginning.

1189.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by the hand of Mr. Jacob Chaloner; wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Leicester, as the same was made by Mr. Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, & Mr. Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshals & Deputies to William Camden Clarenceux, A.D. 1619.

In this Copie, almost all the Seals, Church Notes, Extracts from the Records, & other Proofs, are omitted; as being of less use to the Arms-Painters, for whose use this, and such like Copies were made.

Before the Pedegrees, I find,

2. A List of the Justices of the Peace in this County, A.D. 1610, &c. with the Arms of many of them.

Here are also,

3. The Arms & Seals of the Town Leicester; tricked by another hand.

4. Some later Additions have been made to divers of the Pedegrees.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Lincoln, as it was taken A.D. 1562. by Robert Cooke Chester Herald, for William Hervey Clarenceux. It consists for the most part of bare Pedegrees, the Custom of registering the Seals, Church Notes, & other Proofs of the Antiquity & Gentry of Families, not obtaining in those early Visitations.

2. Since the Writing of the said Pedegrees, the Arms of many Families have been added by Mr. Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, & others.

3. There are also certain Additions & Continuations of some of the said Pedegrees, by the same Henry Parker, &c.

4. The Pedegrees are followed by the Arms of the Lincolnshire Nobility & Gentry; but there Names are, for the most part, omitted.

 3. The same Henry Parker has also putt down certain Additions, in some places.
- Observables in this Visitation-book, may be
4. Certain Churches-Notes, so far from agreeing with the same in Mr. John Saunders's Copie of this Visitation (18 A. 7.) (which I like better than this) that some things here seem to have been delineated by a Description in words only, and not by Draughts lying before the eye. 18. b.
 5. Trick of the Common Seal of the Town of Chip- ping-Wycombe. 20.
 6. The old Story about the Family of Hampden. 25.

Which matter being by the Queens Privy Council referred to them, & they hearing the Allegations of both Parties, found that the said Dean & Prebendaries had no manner of right to any Herfes or their Furniture; but that the same did belong to the Officers of Arms, as their Fees: and do therefore certifie the Earl-Marshall thereof. dat. 6 April, A.D. 1569. This Certificate is preceeded by the final Determination of Thomas Howard then Duke of Norfolk & Earl-Marshall of England, adjudging the said Herse, & all other Herfes, so sett up, for the future, with their Furniture, to the Officers of Arms only. dat. 26 April ann. 11 Eliz. NB. Some of the Warwickshire Descents seem to be mixed with those of Leicestershire, above mentioned at no. 24. not to insist upon that Descent of Gobart of Coventre, which precedes those of Leicestershire; namely at fol. 71.

Note also, that each of these Descents are marked with a Black Lead-Pencil, with such usual marks, as shew them to have been transcribed into other Books, for the use of the Office of Arms.

Ghost, and in much assurance, &c." In the precedent Verse, "Knowing Brethren, beloved, your Election of God; for our Gospell came not unto you in word, &c."

At fol. 156. b. I find this note, "These foregoing Sermons upon the 1. Thessalonians I. & 5. doth most chiefly handle the nature of the Thoughts & Affections in general. October, 1. Anno 1631. London."

The date above-written being in the time when William Sedgewick the puritanical Preacher lived, and this Book being not much unlike that above described at 1198. I leave it to others whether these Sermons be of his own composure, or not. I will only take leave to add this Memorandum of him, which I have been told by a Gentleman (who I dare say did not invent it) that William Sedgewick had pretended to foretell to his Congregation, the certain day when the Day of Judgement should happen. Which not being far off, all those who believed in him, prepared themselves accordingly. The day being come, it so happened, that there was a very terrible & dreadful Tempest of Hail, Rain, Thunders & Lightnings, with a shock of an Earthquake, which not only confirmed the believers in their sentiments, but made many of the Scorners doubtful what to think of it, they having never known such a day before. At last when the Sun had appeared for some time, and nothing more extraordinary fallen out; the dismal apprehensions of the poor honest Disciples began to vanish; and he being thus known to be a false Prophet, was in derision called "Doomsday-Sedgewick" to the day of his death.

7. Matthew, XII. 31. "Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of Sin & Blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men, but the Blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men." Imperf. 157.

A Theological Book in 4to, written in old English, upon parchment; wherein I find

1. A Reule that telleth in which Chaptis of the Bible, ye may fynde the Lessouns, Pistilis, & Gospels that ben red in the Chirche, after the Ufs of Salisburi, marked with Lettris of the a. b. c. &c.

At the end is this Rubric, Thus endith this Kalendar of Lessouns, Pistilis, & Gospels of al the yeer.

2. The New Testament with the usual Prologues, of that Old English Translation, which is by many ascribed to John Wycliffe; concerning which, I believe, I have heretofore putt down my Opinion.

3. The Old Translation of the Epistle to the Laodiceans; with the Prologue, wherein are these Words "but this Epistle is not in comyn Latyn bookys, & therefore it was but late translated into Englishe tunge". And indeed I have not often seen it in the common, & recenter Latin Bibles, although it was in that well-written MS. Latin Bible which (being then but a very young man) I gave to the Bodleyan Library, about A.D. 1693. wherein it has long been inscribed NE. B. 5. 15. and is mentioned in the printed Catalogue of the MSS. preserved in that famous Library.

As to the present Epistle & Prologue; they are badly written in an old Text Hand, imitating the Character of some old Book, without doubt; but otherwise legible enough. However, Major Mould (of whom this Book was bought) thought fit to prefix this Note before them,

Num. 1212—1216.

"I suppose Mr. Richard Smith (whose MSS. this was) transcribed this Epistle out of some old MSS. he had by him, and with the same Character, which without good application is not to be understood or read." But:

"Nil tam difficile est quod non solertia vincat. John Mould."

4. Lastly; here follows a Table of the books of the New Testament, as written in the present MS. with the Number of Chapters (according to the modern Division) contained in each of them; by the same Mr. Mould, as it seems.

1213.

A paper Book in 4to, written all in French, and thus entituled,

L'Histoire de la Duchesse de Savoye; traduite d'Anglois en Francoys, par Hugues le fils du Monsieur Aime Poulet, Capitaine et Gouverneur de l'Isle et Chateau de Gerfé.

As to the Work itself, it is a Romance of Knight-Errantry, and was translated by this Mr. Hugh Poulet, being then (as it seems) a young gentleman, by way of exercising himself in the French Language, wherein, it appears, that by this time, he had made a great proficiency. As to the person of this young Translator; looking upon the Pedegree of the antient & truly noble Family of Poulet described by Mr. John Withie in the Book 65 B. 7. I find him to be Sir Hugh Poulet the direct Ancestor of the present Right Honble. John Earl Poulet now Lord Steward of Her Majesties Household.

Craving his Majesties Pardon if he had offended, with relation to Parliamentary proceedings. It seems, that Sir Charles thinking himself sure to be chosen as Burgess for Eye in Suffolk, had premeditated about what he should think proper to say in Parliament, about paying the King's Debts, & preventing more Debts for the future, about giving satisfaction to the Subject with relation to Religion; and about stopping the Inundation of Scots into this Kingdom. That missing of his Election, he communicated his thoughts to one Mr. Hitchcock, & he to one Mr. Hoyskyns, who moved the House only about the Scots, but with matter different from Sir Charles's meaning.

42. Letter of Sr. Charles Cornwallis to his own Lady; written during the time of his Restraint in the Tower; it is much upon the Transitoryness of this World; and shews that Sir Charles was the Owner of an honest & generous mind, joyned to great Abilities. 99. b.

As proved before the Right Honorable late Committee of Lords, or ready to be deposed. In a Letter to a Friend. Written by Laurence Braddon (of the Middle Temple) Gent. who was upwards of five Years prosecuted or imprisoned, for endeavoring to discover this Murther the third day after the same was committed.

Then followeth,

55. Another Treatise printed in 4to, without a Title-Page or Frontispiece; but beginning abruptly, with this only Title, An Account of the Death of the Earl of Essex.

It appears to have been written not long after the Trial of Laurence Braddon aforesaid, and containeth some pieces of Evidence, different from, or omitted in Braddon's Book. Whether Braddon was the Author of this, or not, doth not directly appear: but it seems not to be written with that Clearness, Gravity, & Temper, necessary to convince impartial Posterity.

56. A Discourse endeavouring to prove that Arthur Capel Earl of Essex, did not murther himself: herein are the Depositions of many Witnesses, with some Reflexions, 216.

As to the Method of this Discourse, laid down at fol. 220. my Lord has struck it out, and described the same more concisely & accurately in 218. b.

2. A Catt may look at a King. 24.

3. The Duke of Buckingham's Speech in the House of Lords, 15 February, 1676. 53.

In this, he endeavouring to prove that the Parliament then mett, was no Parliament; because it had mett after a Prorogation of above a Year, when as his Opinion was, that, by Law, the Parliament was to meet within a Year. But that which occasioned the Debates of this kind, was the Displeasure during the last Sessions, the Peers had conceived

6. Judge Rookebyes Argument about the East-India-Company, A.D. 1692. 69.

The Case is thus, Thomas Sands Merchant, & others his Partners, laded a Ship within the body of a County of England, with Merchandise, with an Intent to make a Trading Voyage to the places within the Limits of the East-India-Companies Charter: The Defendants, Sir Josiah Child Bart. Samuel Franklin Esq; & John Leech Gent. on the behalf of the Company, & their Agents, deliver a Petition to the King, praying that the Ship may be arrested, & stayed from her Voyage, till Security be given in the Admiralty, that she shall not be sent to the East-Indies, or to any place of Trade within the Limits of the Companies Charter. Upon this Petition the Defendants obtained an Order from the King, that the Process should go out of the Admiralty to arrest the Ship; & they procure a judicial Proceeding in that Court, & a Warrant thereupon, by force of which the Ship is arrested in the body of a County. For this Prosecution alone, the Plaintiffe alone brings his Action against the Defendants. This Judges Opinion was, that the Action was maintainable, and that Judgement ought to be given for the Plaintiffe.

7. The Breviat of the Council of William Bridgeman Esq; who brings an Affize of Free-hold against Roland Holt Esq; & Edward Coleman Gent. for the Office of the Kings Chief Clerk of his Court of King's Bench. 79.

This Cause was appointed to be tried in Banco Regis, on Thursday the 23 of June, A.D. 1693.

8. A short Tract, by my Lord; thus entituled, An Opinion of Dr. Hooper Dean of Canterbury in the Case of the Parishes of St. Martin & St. James, 1693. 84. b.

That Case is put thus: Dr. Tenison Rector of the Parish of St. James in the Liberty of Westminster, and Vicar of the Parish of St. Martin in the Fields in the same, is promoted to the Bishoprick of Lincoln; & before Consecration, obtained a Grant & Dispensation from the Arch-bishop of Canterbury, confirm'd by the Kings Letters Patents, according to the Statute in that Case, to hold both the said Livings for Six Months: And at the Expiration of the sayd Time, the Bishop of London Patron to both the sayd Churches (taking their Majesties turn to be serv'd in the Disposition thereof, upon the Doctors promotion by the sayd Grant & Dispensation) collated his Two Clerks respectively to both the sayd Churches, who had thereupon Institution & Induction respectively thereunto. Their Majesties nevertheless taking their Prerogative not to be answer'd by the said Commendath, granted their Presentation under the Great Seal to A. B. to be Rector of the Parish of St. James, & to C. D. to be Vicar of St. Martin's, & brought their Quare Impedit against the sayd Bishop of London & his Clerkes. And upon the whole, the Dean (now Bp. of Bath & Welles) is against the King, in this Case.

9. The Arguments of the Council on both Sides, with the Opinions of the Lord Chief Baron Hales, the Lords Chief Justices Vaughan & Keeling, & of the Lord Keeper Bridgeman, in the Great Case, argued Term. Pasch. ann. 22. Caroli II. between Charles Fry & Anne his wife, against George Porter: when it was resolved, That there is no Relief in Equity against the

10. The Subject of Mr. Edward Bagshawes Arguments (Reader of the Middle Temple) at his Readings in Lent, Anno Domini 1639. 97.

This Summary was drawn up by Mr. Bagshaw himself, and shews his Opinion in two Points, vizt. Whether an Acte of Parliament might passe by consent of the Kinge, his Temporall Lordes, and Commons, the Spirituall Lordes dissentinge, or not being there? Affirmatur. Whether a beneficed Clerke might by any Lawe, and at the time of making any Statute exercise Civill Jurisdiction and be a Justice of Peace? Negatur.

11. Mr. Bagshawe of the Middle Temple, his Readinge, in Lent 1640. with divers Questions, and Answers thereupon between the Bishopp of Canterbury, the Lord Keeper, & Mr. Bagshawe. 103.

This Tract is a Relation of the method Mr. Bagshaw intended to pursue in his Reading: of the two Points abovementioned; and of a third, namely Whether a Bishop without calling a Synod hath Power as a Diocefan, to convict an Heretique? which he denied; & here gives the Sum of his Reasons for the same; as also of his Conference with Arch-bishop Laude touching the Kings inhibiting him to proceed further in his Reading.

12. The Argument of Mr. Solicitor General (. . .) at the Trial, held 19th April A.D. 1684. between the East-India-Company, & Mr. Sands the Interloper. The Sum is, that he thought the Company had an Interest in that Trade, as well as a Licence, well founded upon the Kings Letters Patents, which the King had Power to make, by Prerogative, at the Common Law, & that Power not restrained by any Act of Parliament. And therefore prayed Judgement for the Plaintiffes. 110.

13. Extract of the Declaration of the East-India-Company, against Thomas Sands. 123.

14. The Argument of Mr. . . . Pollexfen in the behalf of Mr. Thomas Sandys, pleaded at the Kings Bench, the 19th of April, A.D. 1684. wherein he endeavoured to prove, that the Charter of the East-India-Company was against the Statute of Monopolies, 21 Jac. I. That the Defendants trading in the East-Indies without License from the Company, was lawful, & therefore not punishable: And that supposing the Company's Charter good, & that his Client had done even what he ought not to have done, yet that the Company could not maintain this Action: and therefore he prayed Judgement for the Defendant. 125.

Note, that although the Lord Chief Justice owned that Mr. Solicitor General on the one Side, & Mr. Pollexfen on the other, had argued on this Cause extraordinarily well: it appears that neither of them were so well acquainted with the English History as they might have been; or as (in their Opinion) the Case required. They had, for example, been dabbling into some Records (mostly had, from Mr. Prynne) concerning the Jews in England whom Mr. Solicitor considers always as Alien Enemies, & Mr. Pollexfen as Alien Amys, and that as such, they were constantly regarded & used by our Kings; both which Notions cannot be right, though they may be both wrong.

Then followeth in the same Tract (which is incorrecly written, & as I suppose, by some Frenchman.

15. The Speech of the Lord Chief Justice (. . .) and the Opinions of the other Judges on the Bench, whereupon it was agreed to putt of the farther Hearing of this Cause to the next Michaelmas Term; it being declared to be of as great weight & consequence, as perhaps any that ever came into Westminster Hall. 166.

Num. 1222, 1223.

16. The Pleadings, on both sides, in the Court of King's Bench, 4th Nov. A.D. 1693. by Mr. Cowper, &c. for the Crown, & Mr. Serjt. Greifwell Levinz, &c. for the Defendants, in the Cause when their Majesties (who had conferred the Bishoprick of Lincoln on Dr. Thomas Tenison, late Vicar of the Parish of St. Martin's in the Fields) brought a Quare impedit against Henry Bishop of London, & Dr. William Lancaster his Clerk, for Recovery of the Presentation to that Benefice, for that turn. The Defendants Council denied the Prerogative of the Crown in this Case; and the Lord Chief Justice (having noted that a Clergyman was the first that ever questioned the King's Prerogative) differed the farther arguing of this Cause, to the next Term.

Then followeth the Opinions of the Judges, given at the King's Bench, the 31st January, A.D. 1684. u. o. i. the Trial of the Cause between the East India Company & Mr. Thomas Sandys. And first,

17. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Walcott, the Sum whereof is, that the Grant made by the Crown to the Company, & the Prohibition of Interlopers were good; and consequently, that the Action was well brought.

18. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Charles Holloway; to the same effect.

19. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Withins; to the same effect.

20. The Opinion of the Lord Chief Justice Sir Thomas Holt, very long, but to the same effect.

1223.

A Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts bound up together; whose Titles are,

1. Some Remarks on the Decay of that, so useful Trade the English had before the Year 1661. to Newfoundland, & Nova Scotia, &c. in the Northern parts of America; to Italy, Spain, Portugal, & South-France: and how thereby the great Nursery of English Seamen is lost to this Nation, which threatens its destruction. It having been brought about by the subtle-Contrivances of the French Ministers, having met with proper Instruments to work on in the persons of the four last Kings & their Ministers of State; having ever been for the increasing the Power of France, in order to the establishing Tyranny & Popery in England, &c. which was taught them by their Popish Counsels could not be effected but by weakening & impoverishing their own Subjects, & setting up France. Most humbly offered to the Parliament of England for redress.

2. An Essay on publick Virtue, to his Grace the Duke of Shrewsbury; and the Rt. Honble. Sidney Lord Godolphin. Part 1.

This Tract is Anonymous; but seems to me to have been compiled by Dr. Charles Davenant, in the year 1697. by laying together divers passages to be found therein.

The Title "Public Virtue" not being extensive or clear enough to let the Reader into the purport of the Treatise, I shall take leave to observe that, the design of it is to expose the English Ministry of that time, and their Administration of Affairs, not only in general, but particularly with relation to, 1. The War with Ireland. 2. The Foot upon which the War with France has been putt. 3. Trade. 4. The Revenues. 5. The Coin of the Kingdom.

3. A Memorial concerning Credit; and the means & methods by which it may be restored, by Doctor Charles Davenant; directed to the Right Honble. the Lords Commissioners of His Majesties Treasury, 15th July, 1696.

4. Reflections upon the Coyne of Money of England.

96.

Num. 1223—1225.

Herein the Author gives his Opinion, against raising the Standard of our Coin; how to prevent its Exportation; and in a Postscript, lays down a method how our clipped Money may be called in, and our Mint set to work (written in the time of K. William.)

5. A Memorial concerning the Coyne of England; which handles these 4 Questions.

Whether if the Money be new coyned, it be advisable to raise its Value?

Whether it be advisable during this War, to new coyn the Money?

Whether it may be possible for us to pay the Armies abroad, & carry on our foreign & domestick Trade in the present posture of our Coyne?

Whether there are any Expedients that may help the Publick, till the true Species of Money can be restored?

A little lower, in my Lord Treasurer's hand, are these words "Written by Charles Davenant LL.D. Nov. 1695.

6. A Memorial concerning the East India Trade: (i.e. for preserving the same, in a Company to be erected by Authority of Parliament) inscribed to the Right Honble. Sir William Trumbal Secretary of State. Written or received, as is observed by my Lord Treasurer, Feb. 6, 1695-6. by Doctor Charles Davenant, and in many places corrected by his Lordship's own hand.

7. Quantulumcunque; or, a Discourse about the Money of England, consisting of 32 Questions and their Resolutions. Written A.D. 1632. by Sir William Petty, & inscribed to the Lord Marquis of Hallifax.

8. Reflections on the Coin now current, A.D. 1695. Written, as my Lord Treasurer hath observed, by Abraham Hill Esq.

9. A Memorial concerning a Council of Trade. (Qu. if not by Dr. Charles Davenant?) Yes.

10. The humble Informations & Motions of William Stockton Gent. touching the present State of the Excise of the Beer & Ale in England; to the Lords Commissioners of their Majesties Treasury.

He sheweth the Causes of the Decay of Excise, & the Remedies thereof.

11. A Treatise shewing the state of K. Charles the 11th's Revenue, with accompts of all Receipts & Payments during divers of the first Years of his Reign. Drawn up in the name of Thomas Wriothesley Earl of Southampton Lord High Treasurer of England, signed by his hand, & presented by him to the King.

At the beginning are some Notes, of my Lord the Earl of Oxford, the now Lord High Treasurer of Great Britain; one of which is in these words, "This Book (I suppose) was composed by Sir Philip Warwick."

At the end, my Lord hath written this Note, "Examined with the Original signed by the Earl of Southampton's own hand, by me R.H. Nov. 9, 1693."

By this it may appear, that this Treatise is the same with that in the Book inscribed No. 736. at fol. 267. which is Anonymous. But the Author's name is preserved in a Note written in this present Book at the beginning, by the Lord Keeper Finch; which I shall here transcribe,

"This Treatise was compiled by William Hudfon of Graies Inne Esq. one very much practized and of great experience in the Starre Chamber: and my very affectionate friend. His sonne & heyr Mr. Christopher Hudfon (whose handwryting this booke is) after his father's death gave it to mee. 19th Decembris. 1635.

7. A Copie of the Visitation-book of Hartfordshire, as it was taken by Henry St. George Richmond Herraulde, Anno 1634. being Deputy to Sir John Borough Garter, & Sir Richard St. George Clarenceaux, Kings of Armes. (This seems to be somewhat imperfect.) 112.
8. Arms of the Kentish Gentlemen, tricked from the Visitation-book of A.D. 1619. by Mr. John Withie, partly in large Escocheons, which have also the Mantles & Helmets annexed. 159.
9. A Table to the Tract last above-mentioned; made by the same Mr. John Withie. 189.
10. Arms of the Lancashire Gentry, whose names are putt down in alphabetical Order, tricked by John Withie, from a Visitation-book (as he seems to insinuate) made A.D. 1595. 192.
11. Pedegree of Morley as allowed by Sir William Dethick Garter A.D. 1592. Copied by Mr. Withie. 217.
12. Arms of the Norfolk Gentry (in Blazon only) from the Visitation-book of that County made by William Hervey Clarenceux, A.D. 1563. 218.
13. An Alphabet of the Arms (in Blazon) of the Northampton-shire Gentry. 221.
14. Arms of the Gentlemen of Suffex; tricked from the Visitation-book of that County, taken A.D. 1591. 230.

An oblong Parchment-book (bought of me) wherein are contained, part of the Works of Sir Geoffrey Chaucer. Which Copie not being used by any of the Editors of Chaucer hitherto, may prove of good value when consulted on such an occasion.

1. The History of Troilus and Cressida, in five Books. 1.

2. The Knights Tale. 63.

In this Copie the first 34 Lines are omitted.

3. The Man of Lawes Prologue, & Table. 80. b.

4. The Wife of Beath's Tale. 88.

5. The Clerk of Oxenfordes Tale. 91.

Here I must retract & correct a mistake I made many years ago about the ensuing Tale, which Mr. Massey (then

Num. 1239, 1240.

(then of Jesus College in Oxford) of whom I bought the book, led me into, by affirming it was not printed. For I comparing the beginning of it with the beginnings of all the Canterbury Tales, in divers printed Editions, and particularly of that printed A.D. 1561. and finding no such beginning to any of them, did believe what Mr. Massey had affirmed to me was true. But now reading the same over, in order to an account of it, and remembering I had read over the very substance of it in Chaucer before, and therefore consulting another MS. of the Canterbury-Tales in this Library; I find to be,

6. An Imperfect Copie of the Frankelyns Tale. 101.

This Copie is not only imperfect with regard to the torn Leaf, at fol. 102. but also wants much between the Leaves 105. & 106. where I can find no Parchment wanting. It may seem therefore that the good Hermit of Greenwich who wrote this part of the Book, purposely omitted the Recital of the Conjurations & magical Ceremonies there mentioned. It is likewise different from the other MS. so far as the 81st Verse in that, is but the 7th Verse of this; and as the 80 Verses are omitted in this Copie, so the six are omitted in that.

A Book in fol. written upon Parchment (as it seemeth, during the reign of K. Richard the 11. and for the Use of Edward Mortimer Earl of March) It was called, as I have heard, Liber Niger de Wigmore, and although damaged in some places, still containeth Transcripts of almost all the Deeds & Evidences relating to the Estate of the Lords of that great Family. It consisteth, as it were, of different Tracts; the first of which, is thus entituled,

1. Ici commence le Kalender des Munimentz touchantz le Heritage le très-honorez Seignour le Counte de la Marche, en Engleterre, Gales, & Irlande: les queux Muniments sont en la Tresorie le dit Counte en divers Coffyns titlés de tieles Titles, come sont escritz en le Margyn, paramont de chescun des Foilles de cest Livre. En queux sont escrites les pleynes Copies; & aussi de chescun des Foilles de ceste Kalender, ou est escrit l'Effect de chescun des ditz Munimentz. Et les Seignouries, Manoirs, Terres, et Parcelles, dont les ditz Munimentz font mention, sont escritz prescheinement en ceste Kalender solonc l'ordre del Alphabete. Issint qe la Seignurie, Manoir, Terre, ou Parcelle, qe homme vorra veer par la premiere Letre du Noun trouez. Si trovera homme en mesme le lieu, en ensuant en queux Titles, ou Title, souz queux Nombres ou Nombre, les pleynes Copies des Munimentz touchantz la dite Seignurie, Manoir, Terre, ou Parcelle ferront trouez en ceste Livre; & aussi en queux Coffyns ou Coffyn, & souz queux Titles ou Title, les Munimentz Entiers ferront trouez en la Tresorie, marchez en Dos de tieles Nombres, come sont mys sur les Copies; et en cest Kalender sur l'effect des Copies diceux.

What the Reader is more particularly to observe, from the precedent Words, is this; that the present Kalendar or Index consisteth of Three Columns: The first exhibiteh the Names of the several Lordships, Manors, and Parcells, in alphabetical Order. The second referreth to the Titles of the Drawers, as they were placed (in alphabetical Order) in the Treasury or Evidence Room of the said Earl of March. And the third sheweth the Numbers inscribed upon the Deeds within the said Drawers or Boxes. For example, if the Title of that Lord's Estate in Aderleye be looked into; this Kalendar directeth the Searcher to go to the Drawer or Box entituled "Beadlesmere," and peruse that Deed therein marked with the Number 1.

2. Et fait assavoir, que toutz les Titles, souz queux ferront trouez les Munimentz touchantz les Seignouries,

Num. 1240.

Manoirs et Parcelles avant-escrites, come est specifiez adevant par la primer Parole des ditz Titles, sont pleinement escritz ici desouz, solonc l'Ordre del Alphabete; et en quele foille de ceste Livre chescun des ditz Titles ferra primerement trouez ou l'effect des tous les Muniments contenuz sous mesmes les Titles. Et illeqz ferra trouez en ensuant en quele foille du dit Livre la pleine copie de chescun Muniment est escrit.

7. Hereby the Reader may understand, that this second Table giveth the Titles fastened upon the several Drawers or Boxes in the said Evidence-Room; and referreth to the several Leaves (of the next Tract) according to their old Numeration, wherein the Arguments of all the Deeds contained in them, are entered.

3. The Arguments, or Subjects of all the Earl of March's Evidences, extracted from them in order, as they lay in their respective Drawers; with reference to the several Leaves of this Book (according to the old Numeration) wherein the said Deeds are transcribed entirely.

8. Hitherto every thing is written in French, which being the Language of the English Court, was well understood by the Nobility & Gentry of those times. Next followeth a Cartulary or Transcript at length of all the said Evidences; with the sum of them in French (in the words or description used in the Tract last above-mentioned) written in the margin, together with their several Numbers, according to which, the Originals might be found in their respective Drawers. The Titles of which Drawers under which the said Deeds were ranged, are these that follow.

114. to 125.

Notwithstanding these Titles, it must not be thought that the Mortimers Estate was confined to those places alone; because in turning over the Book a second time, I find many Titles mentioned in the second & third Kalendars, although the Sums of the Deeds, and the Transcripts of the intire Deeds, which they refer unto, are wanting.

Thus, in the second Kalendar, I find,

29. Arleye, Oddyngleye, with a reference to the 20th Leaf, for Docquets of the Deeds relating to the Earl

Num. 1240, 1241.

Earl of Marches Estate in those places; which 20th Leaf is cutt out of the Book.

30. Brugge-water, Odecombe, Mulvertone, with a like reference to fol. 16. which is also cutt out.

31. Brymmes grove, Nortone, which refer in like fort to fol. 22. and that is likewise cutt out of the Book.

32. Cliftone, Cure; referring in like manner at fol. 18, part of which is cutt off.

33. Guffiche; referring to fol. 26. which is cutt out.

34. Huntidone, Middeltone; referring to fol. 25. which is cutt out.

35. Mountgomery, Chirbury; referring to fol. 23. which is cutt out.

36. Neubury; referring to fol. 8. which is cutt out.

37. Nenketlyn; referring to fol. 25. which is cutt out.

38. Stauntone-Harecourt; referring to fol. 26. which is cutt out.

39. Swannef-compe; referring to fol. 30. which is cutt out.

In the third Kalendar or Table, containing the Docquets or Sums of the Earl of Marches Evidences, are also divers Titles not yet mentioned, nor are the intire Deeds now remaining in this Book: vizt.

40. Wynfertone, Erdesle, Bradwardyn Wilardeslee; referring to fol. 103. which is taken up with Deeds relating to other Lands. Hereby it may seem, that the Cartulary of the Earls of Marches Estate, took up more than this Volume.

41. Marcle, Affaltone; referring to fol. 108. 109. & 110. which are all wanting.

42. Nereberthe; referring to fol. 113. & 114. which are both wanting.

43. Thornebury, Nethewode, Colyntone; referring to fol. 119. 120. & 121. the first of which is wanting, and the others relate to different Lands.

44. Cliftone; Cure; referring to fol. 124. & 125. which are both wanting.

45. Wolforlowe, Stoke-Blees; referring to fol. 128. & 129. both which relate to other Lands.

46. Tedeferne; referring to fol. 130. 131. both which are wanting.

47. Lodelowe, Ewias, Mounfelowe; referring to fol. 132. 133. & 134. all which are wanting.

48. Stauntone wottone; referring to fol. 139. 140. 141. 142. & 143. all which are either blank, or relate to other Lands.

In the Margin is the following Title & Note, written in a good old hand,

49. Stauntone-Lacye, "the Levys were toren away. Ther doth remayne but thys Callendour and a Note before."

50. Knyghtone Nortone; referring to fol. 141. which relateth to other Lands.

51. Dynebeghe; referring to fol. 173. 176. 177. 178. & 185. which are included in the number of those wanting from fol. 159. to fol. 226. which perhaps were never bound up in this present Cover.

52. Dynas; referring to fol. 185. which is consequently wanting.

53. Diverfa Domina & Maneria, referring to fol. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 197. and 198. which consequently are all wanting.

It is needles to specifie the Names of the antient & noble Families whose Histories & Genealogies may be illustrated by the help of this Book; since Cartularies, as well those of private Families, as those of Monasteries, Churches, Colleges, and Hospitals, afford such store of materials of that kind, as to be constantly consulted by the best Antiquaries, upon such occasions.

Num. 1241—1243.

An Heraldical Book in fol. thus entituled,
A Copie of the Visitation of Shropshire, taken & made by Richard Lee, alias Richmond Herauld, & Marshall to Robert Cooke (William Hervey) alias Clarenceux Kinge of Armes; taken in the Yeare of our Lord God 1564. Augmented by many Notes and Gatherings of Lewis Dunne and others, by me Jacob Chaloner of London Gentleman, untill the yeare 1620. Copied by me Thomas Hanford of Wigmore, Anno 1661.

I am apt to believe that the Date of the Visitation last mentioned, may be mistaken, and that it should be 1584. For Mr. Weever (Fun. Mon. pag. 673.) sheweth that Mr. Robert Cooke was made Clarenceux A.D. 1566. nor was Richard Lee from Portcullis, created Richmond Herald untill the year 1584. Besides, Mr. Withie's Book in this Library 81 B. 12. and other good Copies, ascribe this Visitation to Richard Lee Portcullis, and affirm that he took the same A.D. 1584.

And as that Date of 1564. seems not to be right; so I suspect that this Mr. Hanford, may not have been the most accurate Copyist, in some other places; not but that the Book being a Painter's Book only, wherein the Seals & other Proofs of the Descents are almost intirely omitted) may upon divers occasions prove of good use.

Besides the Descents, I find in this Copie,

1. The Atchievement of Vernon of Hadnett. Imperfect. (These Vernons have Supporters by antient usage.)
2. Arms of Lacon, with Quarterings. Both at the beginning; before the Title.

3. Arms of the Shropshire Nobility & Gentry. After the Title.

1264.

An oblong Book written & pricked by the hand of Signior Cornelio Galli, who (as I have been told) was a Native of Lucca, and was one of the Gentlemen of the Chapell to Queen Catherine, in the time of King Charles II. Mr. Berencloze told me that he was a very great Master of the finest manner of Singing, & was one of the first that introduced it in England. Whether the Italian Songs in this Book are of his Composing as well as of his writing, I cannot certainly remember. They are,

1. Pensoso, Afflito, Irresoluto, e Solo. Cantata. 1.
2. Perche piangere Amanti. Cantata. 7.
3. Anime voi che fiete dalle Furie d'Abisso. Cantata. 11. b.

10. Voglio Morte, e voglio Vita, bramo lacci e Libertà. Aria. 44. b.
11. Fidarsi d'Irene, mio Cor e Follia. Cantata. 47.
12. Che volete da me vani Pensieri. Cantata. 51. b.

This last Song is written by the hand of Mr. Berenclo: concerning whom I shall take another opportunity of giving some short Account.

1265.

An oblong musical Book (bought of me, as was the last above-mentioned) wherein are contained some of the Compositions of many excellent Italian Masters; vizt.

1. Ferma, lascia, ch'io parli Sacilego Ministro. Cantata di Giacomo Carissimi. 1.

This Giacomo Carissimi, was in his time the best Composer of Church Music in all Italy. Most of his Compositions were, with great Labor & Expence, collected by the late learned Dean of Christ-Church, Dr. Henry Aldrich. However, some things of Carissimi I had the luck to light upon, which that great Man could not procure in Italy; of which this Cantata was one. Carissimi living to about 90 years old, composed much, & died very rich, as I have heard.

N.B. The upper Part of this Song is in the G-fol-re-ut Cliffe, and yet written by an Italian Copist; perhaps it might have been written for some Tramontane, who might not have been so well versed in C-fol-fa-ut Cliffe.

2. O'nò, nò, nò, non lo Niego: Cantata del Carlo Ludovici. 13.

3. E che si, ch'io v'abbandono. Arietta del medesimo. 20.

4. Cieco Amor, e cieco Sorte. Arietta di Dominico Gabrielli. 26.

This Dominico Gabrielli, as I have heard, is a very good Master in Rome. His Compositions have been but few; but then they are neat & artful.

5. Ste lo già la Notte bruna. Cantata di Mario Marazzoli. 29.

6. A la Rota, à la Benda, al biondo Crine; ovvero La Fortuna di Luigi Roffi. 37.

This Luigi Roffi, as I have heard, lived long since, even before Clarissimi. It is said he first introduced Dramatical Music on the Stage, & composed the first Opera for it. This Cantata, La Fortuna, is reputed one of his best Cantatas. He died very old, at Venice, as I have been told.

7. Questo picciolo Rio, che con Lingua d'Argento. Cantata di Luigi Roffi. 63.

8. Quando spiega la Notte humida. Cantata del medesimo. 74.

9. Gelosia ch'a poco a poco nel mio Cor serpendo. Cantata del medesimo. 79.

10. E puo soffrirti Amore qualche soffrendo stò. Aria del medesimo. 87.

11. E chi non v'ameria Pupillucce amorose. Aria del medesimo. 91.

12. Giusto così v'è detto, Cantata del medesimo. 95.

13. Quante volte l'hò detto Cor mio non Amar. Aria del medesimo. 105.

14. Già nel oblio profondo il Di sepolto giace. Cantata del medesimo. 108.

15. Lasciate, ch'io ritorni. Cantata del medesimo. 114.

16. Al soave spirar d'aure serene; ovvero L'Arione. Cantata del medesimo. 125.

Num. 1265, 1266.

17. Erminia sventurata. Cantata del medesimo. 143.
 18. Dà perfida Speranza un alma lusingata, overò il disperato. Cantata del medesimo. 153.

19. Sospiri miei di foco. Aria del medesimo. 167.

This is of the hand-writing of Doctor Bernard. Martin Berenclo, father to Mr. Bernard-Martin Berenclo mentioned in the account of N° 1264. I take leave to mention, that this Doctor Berenclo was born in the Dutchy of Hol ein near Toninghen; his mother was a Berchem, a family sufficiently eminent both in the Upper & Nether Germany. He married Katherine one of the daughters of Mr. Laneir, Clerk of the Closet to K. Charles 1. He was Professor of Physic in the University of Padua, & practised with success and reputation in Italy, France, Germany, Holland, Flanders, & England. And notwithstanding his frequent Journeys & Removals, died rich in ready Money, Jewels, Plate, Pictures, Drawings, &c. of great price & curiosity; which his Widow notwithstanding (by true pains-taking) made a shift to overcome, and utterly squander away, in about five years time after his decease.

20. Voglio Amar chi mi disprezza. Arietta del Sigr. Aleffandro Scarlatti.

This Aleffandro Scarlatti is a Neapolitan by birth; and by long practice is as ready a Composer as any other man. His Reputation is very great, among ours & other Nations, as well as in Italy his native Country. I have seen many of his Works; (to say the truth more trivial Things of him, & Bernardo Pasquini, than of any other Italian Masters.

21. La Gioia verace favella nel Cor. Aria del medesimo. 173.

22. Stanco di pianger più volti dormire un poco. Cantata di Tomaso Titi. 175.

23. Non fuggir quando mi vedi. Cantata di Carlo Manelli, ditto Del Violino. 187.

24. Hor' ch' hò sentito un fi. Cantata del medesimo. 193.

25. Poiche fissate il guardo entro il Fulgor d'Adaman. Cantata del medesimo. 201.

26. Voglio amarti sì mio Bene senza tema di penar. Cantata di Giovanni Battista Vulpio. 219.

27. Chi credete che sia. Cantata del medesimo. 225.

28. Nel mirarvi Pupille vezzose, dolce piaga mi sento nel Cor. Aria del medesimo. 233.

29. Son Disperato, abbandonato, Amante. Duetta di Giovanni Francesco Tenaglia. 237.

30. Lo dissi per Gioco. Arietta di Aleffandro Scarlatti. 243.

31. Ch'io lasci d'Amar non è possibil. Arietta di Henry Firmin Gentilhuomo Inglese, fatta in Roma. 245.

32. Non è emante quel Core. Arietta di Pietro Simone Agostini, fatta in Venetia. 247.

This modern Master must be distinguished from one of that Name of more antiquity & reputation.

33. La mia Vaga, la mia Bella, stimo più di tutto il mondo. Arietta del medesimo. 249.

34. Chi bella non hà, che legghi il suo Cor. Arietta del medesimo. 251.

35. Se nel ben sempre inconstante Fortuna vagante di farsi Stabile. Arietta di Aleffandro Stradella. (fatta in Genoa.) 253.

Of this great Master, I shall take another occasion of giving some short account. But although I find this Arriet attributed to him, I cannot positively assert it to be of his composition.

This Alessandro Stradella was, as I think, a Venetian, and was in his time one of the greatest Masters in Music that Italy had ever bred, with respect either to the Church, Stage, or Chamber. He excelled not only in Composition, but in an extraordinary hand, so as to be accounted the best Organist in Italy. He was a comely Person, and of an amorous nature. And finding a Baroness who was admired by the Heir of the Family of Cornaro (or Colonna, I remember not exactly which) to be a most beautiful personage, witty, airy, Mistress of an admirable Voice, and a professed Lover of Music, he instructed her therein, and she was so far improved by him, as to sing the best of any Woman in Italy. He undermined her other Adorer, and rendered himself so agreeable to her, as that at last she consented to run away with him to Genoa, where (soon after his coming) he was shot in the back by his revengeful Rival. The Baroness (or Countess) was afterwards sent for to France by the present French King, & has been heard to sing both in Italy & France by Mr. Berenclow, who said she was a perfect Mistress of the best manner, for which, with her, he only admired Cornelio Galli, and the two Eunuchs Tossi.

Tosfi & Stradella: When Mr. Henry Purcell (who had only seen two or three of his Compositions) heard that Stradella was assassinated, & upon what account, he lamented him exceedingly; nay, so far as to declare, that he could have forgiven him any injury in that kind; which those who remember how lovingly Mr. Purcell lived with his Wife (or rather what a loving Wife she proved to him) may understand without further explication.

It begins thus, "Est Vicus in Pago Oxenfordensi, sex Militarijs distans a loco qui dicitur Wodestoke, Comestona Nomine, &c."

I should have lett this Legendary Tale have gone, in the herd, among the rest, without any Remark, had not Sir William Dugdale hooked it into his Antiquities of Warwickshire, at pag. 445. first to prove the Antiquity of the Church of Long-Compton; & secondly that the Payment of Tithes is very antient; upon which latter account, I have heard it often cited, by divers Clergymen. Sr. William's Author is Johannes Anglicus, who was Vicar of Tinmouth, and flourished about A.D.

Num. 1288.

1366, as Arch-bishop Usher has written at the beginning of the Cottonian Copie of the same Work (viz. TIBERIVS. E. 1.) wherein the story is told, conformably to what he puts down; excepting that it is ushered in with these words, (at fol. 156. col. 2.) "Inveni siquidem a Patribus antiquis, nonnullis in locis scriptum, quod in Comitatu Oxonie, in Villa nomine Cometon, veniente B. Augustino ad predicandum, &c." And the same story is also transcribed by John Capgrave, though neither of them do declare who these Antiqui Patres were. Upon this occasion I have looked upon some ancient Historians, Annalists, & other Writers, as well unpublished, as printed, among whom I could find no footstep of any such Story except in what follow. In a Life of this St. Augustine (written since the time of Joannes Anglicus; for the older Copies want it) viz. NERO. c. 7. The Tale is extant, as in John of Tinnmouth, but the Village is called CEMETON. In that noble Copie of the Works of Gotscelinus de Sto. Bertino, who was a Monk of St. Augustin's Abbey near Canterbury in the time of St. Anselm, and who undertook to write the Life of St. Augustine at large, and to set forth his Miracles done as well during his Life, as after his death, as also about & upon his Translation: which is extant in this Library, & marked 35. A. 6. there is nothing of it in the first hand; but in a hand no older than the time of Joannes Anglicus aforesaid, in some vacant or blank Parchment at fol. 60. b. &c. the story may be found, with some interpolated Additions, from John abovementioned and in the expressions of this present MS. 68. B. 15. In the Cottonian Copie of Gotscelinus VESPASIANUS. B. 20. which actually belonged to St. Augustine's Abbey, is somewhat more antient than my Lord's Copie, and was (as appears) particularly used, & read in, upon the Festival of St. Augustine's day, there is nothing of it in the old hand. But at fol. 85. b. "Explicit Liber Miraculorum Sancti Augustini Anglorum Apostoli." Over against which, in a hand of John of Tinnmouth's time, is this Note or Direction, "Item legatur Miraculum de duobus mortuis resuscitatis per B. Augustinum; quere in fine hujus Libri quod sic incipit, Est Vicus in Pago;" and accordingly at fol. 286. upon vacant parchment, in the same modern hand with that of my Lord's Copie at fol. 60. b. of the book N° 105. and with the same Interpolations, the improved Story may be read, excepting where the Parchment is destroyed by much thumbing & moisture. I forgot to mention, that it is also printed among the Decem Scriptores, in that Chronicle erroneously called Historia Jorevallenfis, and as erroneously ascribed to John Brompton the Abbat of that House. That Chronicle coming down no farther than the reign of K. Richard 1. seems to be but the first part of the Work, whereas it is plain by the latter end of the Preface, that the Author designed to continue the same to the reign of K. Edward the first. And by the Phrase Post Conquestum, it is as plain that he lived in the time of King Edward the third, or later. Thus it seemeth to me, that this Tale was not known to the Monks of St. Augustin's own Abbey til the time of John of Tinnmouth at least; and it might make one wonder why so grave a man as Sir William Dugdale, should endeavour to prove matter of fact so very long ago, and in an affair of such consequence as payment of Tithes to the Clergy, from such a Story, and so late an Authority. The like success he hath had in the Story of Guy of Warwick; which I now pass over, as thinking this not a place proper for entering into that matter.
